

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

ORDER—dated 13th December 1883, No. 2851, Financial.

Under Civil Account Code, section No. 23 (k), 5, the local Government are empowered to sanction clothing charges for peons within a limit of Rs. 20 per head biennially.

Under section 30 of the Ootacamund Travelling Allowance Code, warm clothing may be given yearly within a limit of Rs. 10 per head.

Again, the local Government are at liberty, under Resolution of the Government of India, No. 228, dated 28th April 1880 (Public G.O., No. 802, 28th May 1880), to spend the amount prescribed by the Civil Account Code in the manner considered most advisable so long as the money limit is not exceeded.

The biennial money limit for ordinary clothing in the case of this Government will be the sanctioned number of peons multiplied by 20.

As it is found difficult at times to classify clothing as warm or ordinary, the same clothing being at times used both on the hills and the plains, it is resolved to amalgamate the two allowances—a course which, in the opinion of the Accountant-General, is unobjectionable—and to authorize that officer to admit any claims within the combined money limit with effect from April 1st, 1883.

The Governor in Council resolves to cancel G.O., No. 250, Public, 2nd March 1874, and to leave it to the discretion of Secretaries to Government to decide how many peons shall be provided with livery and warm clothing during the period of two years from April 1st, 1883, to March 31st, 1885. Having decided the number of peons to be clothed, the Secretaries will, at an early date, advise the Account office of the maximum limit within which he is authorized to admit all charges during the two years. That maximum limit will, of course, in the case of each branch of the Secretariat, be the revised number of liveried servants multiplied by 40, and must on no account be exceeded.

The same principles should be applied, mutatis mutandis, to dafadars and other menial officers above the rank of peon.
