NOTE OF REMARKS.

1. The accompanying plan and estimate provide for constructing stabling for 66 additional horses of the British Cavalry at Agram Bangalore. The estimate amounts to Rs. 5930- thus giving Rs. 90 as the average cost of stabling per horse.
2. A report has not been submitted but it is shown on the plan that the proposed new work is to form extensions of the existing blocks of stabling by the addition of 10 stalls to each of the side blocks of double stalls; and of 5 stalls to the northern block of single stalls and of 1 stall to the Southern block.
3. The new work as shown in the plan & estimate is to be carried out on the lines of the revised design for stabling sanctioned in G.O. No. 1252 of the 30th April 1883. The roofs are to be covered with Mangalore tiles and it is probably due to the fact

To note does not mention whether the rates are according to the schedule of the District.
Rs 20-5-0. ^{per 100 ft} seems rather high
for "covered rubble in mortar".

The standard plan gives 6' x 8' as scaffolding for the ridge piece & 5' x 7'
for the beams.

The present estimate allows ridge
piece & bressummen. both 5' 7".
Presumably the reduction is due to the ~~higher~~ use of Mangrove tiles but the standard plan provides no gable ends & it is doubtful whether there is much difference between the weight of them
& of the Mangrove tiles.

Also if the ridge price may be safely reduced it is not clear why the businessmen should not ^{also} be ~~be~~ experts of reduction.
