GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

General.
Establishment.

Read—the following papers :—

From D. C. GORDON, Esq., Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Madras, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated 14th October 1886, No. 107 W.

I have the honor to forward three volumes of the 3rd edition of the Public Works Department Code of Regulation with three volumes of the Appendices.

2. One thousand four hundred copies of each have been printed, and will be distributed as speedily as practicable. Services copies will be supplied free of charge, but with the approval of Government private copies will be supplied on payment at the same rates as before plus charge for postage. Provision, Rs. 6,000, was made in the budget for the work, but I anticipate a considerable saving in the cost, a report on which will be made hereafter.

3. The distribution should be carried out so as to allow of the new edition coming into force and being quoted on 1st December 1886.

4. Standing Orders will issue in due course for the book of forms.

5. The work has been carried out, and the index throughout revised, by Honorary Assistant Examiner Mr. Gaynor, Mr. Calder, First-grade Accountant, and A. Tyaga Raja Aiyar, temporary Fifth-grade Accountant, of this office, under the direction and supervision of the Code Committee. I beg to bring the services of these officers to the favorable notice of Government, as a very considerable portion of their time out of office has necessarily been given up to the work which has been undertaken in addition to their ordinary duties.

6. I also have the pleasure to bring to notice the assistance I have received from the Lawrence Asylum Press.

From the same officer, dated 15th October 1886, No. 108 W.

In continuation of my No. 107 W., dated 14th October 1886, I have the honor to report that the cost of printing and binding 1,400 copies of the Public Works Department Code and Appendices will be about Rs. 1,500.

Order—dated 21st October 1886, No. 2767 W., Public Works.

From the foregoing letters from the Examiner, Public Works Accounts, the Government learn that the third edition of the Madras Public Works Code is ready for issue. The work of revising the text of the Code was begun in January 1886, and completed in June. The new edition is not merely a reprint of the second edition including corrections issued to the end of 1885. During the progress of the revision, it was found necessary to submit more than 500 Standing Orders to the Code Committee. These embraced the inclusion of new rules based on Government of India and local orders previously left unembodied in the Code; the omission of unnecessary repetitions; the rectification of ambiguous expression; the re-arrangement in logical sequence of the account rules in chapters XIV to XVII, and the thorough revision of the index and appendices. This laborious work was done mainly out of office hours, and has been completed in a comparatively short space of time. The new edition, in many respects, is an improvement on the second edition, and the work reflects credit on the Examiner, Mr. D. C. Gordon, and on the officers mentioned in paragraph 5 of his letter No. 107 W. above recorded. In consideration of the heavy work out of office hours entailed on the latter, the Government will have much pleasure in recommending to the Government of India the grant of an honorarium of one month's salary to Mr. H. M. Gaynor, Honorary Assistant Examiner, and to Mr. J. D. L. Calder, Accountant, 1st grade, substantive pro tem. The grant of one month's salary to A. Tyaga Raja Aiyar, temporary Fifth-grade Accountant, is sanctioned.

2. The second edition of the Code, including a reprint of the book of forms, cost Rs. 10,000; and, calculating on the data thus obtained, the third edition, without the forms, was estimated to cost Rs. 6,000. The expenditure, chiefly owing to the adoption of inexpensive binding, has, however, been only Rs. 1,500, and there is therefore an ample saving from which the honoraria abovementioned can be met.

3. The Government have also much pleasure in acknowledging the assistance rendered to the Code Committee by Mr. C. S. Simpson, Assistant to the Secretary to Government, and the value of many suggestions made by him.

4. The Examiner's remarks relative to the assistance given by the Lawrence Asylum Press are noted with satisfaction.

5. The new edition should be distributed as quickly as possible, and will be quoted, in supersession of the second edition, in all official communications, on and after 1st December 1886. A note to this effect should be added as a fly-leaf to each copy of the Code.

6. A further report will be made by the Examiner as to the price to be charged for private copies, after considering the actual cost of the new edition.

ambiguous expressions, the re-arrangement in logical sequence of the Account rules in Chapters XIV to XVII, and the thorough revision of the index and appendices. This laborious work was done mainly out of office hours, and has been completed in a comparatively short space of time. The new edition, in general get up, and in other respects, is an improvement on the second edition, and the work reflects credit on the Examiner

Mr D C Gordon, and on the officers mentioned in para 5 of his letter No 1096 be rewarded. In consideration of the heavy work out of office hours entailed on the latter, the Govt will have much pleasure in recommending to the Govt of India the grant of an honorarium of one month's salary to Mr H. M. Grayson, Honorary Assistant Examiner, and to Mr J. G. L. Calder, Accountant 1st grade, substantive pro tem.

The

The grant of one month's salary to A. Tyaga Raja Aiyar, temporary 5th grade Accountant, is sanctioned.

2. The second edition of the Code, including a reprint of the book of forms, cost Rs 10,000/-, and calculating on the data thus obtained, the third edition, without the forms, was estimated to cost Rs 6,000/-. The expenditure, chiefly owing to the adoption of inexpensive binding, has however been only — Rs 1500/-, and there is therefore an ample saving

from which the [illegible]
above mentioned can be met.

3. The Govt have also much pleasure in acknow-ledging the assistance
rendered to the Code
Committee by Mr
C.S. Simpson, Assistant to the Secretary to Govt,
and the value of many suggestions made by him
to the Examiner's remarks pertaining to the assistance given to the Lawrence Asylum Press,

are noted with satisfaction.

5. The new edition
should be distributed as quickly as possible, and will be quoted, in supersession of the second edition, in all official communications, on and after 1st December 1886.
A note to this effect
should be added as a flyleaf to each copy of the Code.

6. A further report will be made by the

Examiner as to the price to be charged for private copies after considering the actual cost of the new edition
