From

To

The Hon'ble H. E. Stokes,

Sir,

It has been brought to notice recently that the tomb of Lieutenant Wase of the 43^d Regiment M. A. S. who was killed by fanatic Mappillas at Manjeri in the outbreak of August 1849 is situated in the compound of the public offices at Manjeri and is unmarked by any inscription. It will be reported on annually in future, and I have the honor to suggest that a small slab with the name of deceased and date of the occurrence may be inserted in the tomb.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedt. servant,

W. Logan
District Magistrate.
