To Mr.

A Clerk of this grade traveling in a non-canal Division would get 4 annas a day & would have to provide means of locomotion. His main traveling into Sub. Div. office is probably often carried in the officers boat. By the rule he can no doubt get 7 1/2 Rs a month if the Division is called a canal division, but there does not seem to be any good reason why clerks in canal divisions should get less than 7 1/2 Rs a month for long days in the month while they may not travel more than half the month & are then traveling than traveling. He may not get more expenses than clerks in other divisions who only get the allowance for the days on which they travel.
