Report on the late Mana-Madura Munsiff's Court House.

As far as it can be ascertained the portion of the building comprising the Court and Record room seems to have been constructed some 30 years ago by the Judicial department and the rest containing the Gumastah's room was added in 1873 by the D.P.W.

2. It has no compound attached to it and the whole of it is so old and out of repair that it is not even worth more than Rs 300 in its present state.

3. The masonry of this building is brick in clay plastered over with chunam, Doors and windows are all (Teakwood) batten. The roof is a tiled one (flat and pan tiles for court room and pan tiles alone for Gumastahs). The wood work of the Ventilator roof is Vaingai and of the lower roof Palmyrah steps of the Court
