PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

From Dr. J. BURGESS, LL.D., Government Archæological Surveys, to the Acting Chief Secretary to Government, dated Guttal, Dharwar district, 12th February 1886, No. 53.

With reference to G.O., No. 2783, Public, dated 1st December 1885, I have the honor to report as follows.

2. It is true that only a small proportion of the number of works included in the lists drawn up by Mr. Sewell are likely to be finally included among those to be preserved by Government, and these lists are only to be regarded as provisional. Owing to the great difficulty in obtaining anything like correct information regarding antiquarian remains, many buildings are necessarily included for the present that will ultimately be expunged when accurate accounts of them are secured. At the same time a great many objects in the lists are such as will require attention and a very small expenditure only once,—such as the removal of sculptures and inscriptions to places of safety.

3. It is impossible to form a correct estimate of what sum may be required for next year, as it must be entirely dependent on the number of works that are to be dealt with during the year; but I incline to think that where there is no special case of conservation on a large scale in view, a sum of about Rs. 7,500 per annum might be budgeted for to cover all expenditure for the year. This, with such supplement as the Imperial Government may be pleased to grant, if judiciously expended, ought to meet all urgent cases.

4. I presume it is not intended that Government should pay for any repairs to temples in use as places of worship, but only so far as practicable to advise judicious repairs for them; whilst those out of use or in possession of Government will be preserved if practicable and deserving.

ORDER—dated 12th March 1886, No. 533, Public.

The necessary provision will be made in the Public Works Department.

2. The surmise in paragraph 4 of Dr. Burgess' letter is correct.
