GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

General.
Account

READ—the following papers:—

From E. T. ATKINSON, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, dated Simla, 15th October 1887, Circular No. 5511.

The Governor-General in Council has had under consideration the question of the continuance of the system of remittance transfer receipts. This system has come down from the time when communication between various parts of India was much more difficult than it now is, when no money order system existed, and when postal and banking facilities were much less perfect than at present.

Remittance transfer receipts cause an amount of trouble in issue and payment, and in account and audit, which is, when they are of small amounts, utterly incommensurate with the facilities they afford, and the Governor-General in Council has, therefore, considered it expedient to re-examine the cases in which remittances are now made by transfer receipts, and to curtail the system as far as possible. On a survey of all the cases, it appears necessary to maintain the system entirely in some and for the remittance of large sums in others, while in a few others the system may be entirely abolished; the cases in which remittance transfer receipts are now granted have accordingly been divided into three classes in the lists appended to this letter, viz.:—

Class A.—Those in which the system should be maintained.

Class B.—Those in which remittance transfer receipts should be granted only for an amount in excess of Rs. 150, money orders being used for smaller amounts.

Class C.—Those in which the privilege of remittance by transfer receipt may be entirely withdrawn.

The grounds on which the different items have been classified are various, and it does not seem necessary to specify them in detail; as a general rule, the system must be maintained for bonâ fide public remittances; on the other hand, privileged remittances for private purposes may in many cases be entirely withdrawn, and should not be maintained at all for small remittances, for which the money order system is more convenient both for Government and for the payee, who can, under this system, have the money brought to his door instead of having to attend a distant treasury.

Before coming to a final decision, the Governor-General in Council desires to learn the views of Local Governments, Heads of Departments and Account Officers on the alterations proposed, and I am to request that you will, as early as convenient, report thereon.

(Signed) E. T. ATKINSON,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India,
Department of Finance and Commerce.

ORDER—dated 11th November 1887, No. 3043 W., Public Works.

The opinion of this department is requested on the subject of remittance by transfer receipt, dealt with in the circular from the Government of India quoted above.

2. It is observed that, so far as the transactions which specially concern the accounts of the Public Works Department in this Presidency are concerned, the proposals are—

- (a) to maintain the system of remittance by transfer receipt in case of Executive Engineers having to make payments outside their divisions;
- (b) to withdraw entirely the privilege of remittance by transfer receipt of allowances of officers and subordinates absent on leave.

3. The proposed change will therefore only affect remittances of allowances of officers on leave. The rules of the department provide for such payments being made by transfer adjustment. The withdrawal of the privilege of remittance by transfer receipt will therefore occasion no inconvenience.

(b) to withdraw entirely the privilege of remittance by transfer receipt of allowances of officers & subordinates absent on leave.

The proposed change will therefore only affect remittances of allowances of officers on leave. The rules of the Department provide for such payments being made by transfer adjustment.
The withdrawal of the privilege of remittance
by transfer receipt will

will therefore occasion
no inconvenience.
