Code form No. M 85 transfer report, or report on the relief of an Executive Engineer or Divisional Accountant, has by Code para 392 been made applicable to transfers of Executive Engineers in this Presidency, but I can trace no order of Government formally introducing the rule into the Madras Code.

2. The corresponding form in use under the Government of India is not applied to cases of transfers of Executive Engineers, and I have ascertained, by reference to the Accountant General P. W. Department that the matter having been recently under consideration, it has been decided not to make it applicable to such cases.

3. The Government of India

form is now in process of modification, and when the revised form is received I propose to consider the modification of the Madras form — indeed I had taken this in hand some time ago, but suspended it on hearing that the matter was being independently considered elsewhere — and I should be glad if, when the revision is undertaken, it could be done with the understanding that the revised form will be applicable only to transfers of Accountants; a separate and more suitable form, dealing only with matters with which the Executive Engineer is more immediately concerned, being introduced for cases of transfers of Executive Engineers.

4. If Government is prepared to approve of this a sample form of report suitable for Executive Engineers might be drawn up at once, and the elaborate report on accounts matters now required on the occasion of a transfer of an Executive Engineer might be discontinued.
