OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDING ENGINEER,
6TH CIRCLE.

Trichinopoly. 21st May 1888.
D 23/-

No. 357 T.J.

From
S. W. Pundall Esq: M.I.C.E.
The Superintending Engineer,
6th Circle.

To
The Chief Engineer
P. W. D.

Sir,

ENCLOSURES.

With reference to Item No 27
[Verandahs in front of blocks No 3,
3A & 3B at the District Jail, Bangalore]
under class B works in Part I of the current year's Provincial Budget, I have the honor to state that an estimate of Rs 5,700 for this work was forwarded to the Inspector General on the 21st July 1887 for his approval & submission to Govt, but that officer has now returned the estimate with his No 2990 dated 18th Instant with an intimation that the Verandahs are not now considered necessary.

2. The Inspector general states that the Surgeon General, after inspecting the Jail in October last, suggested that shades of far-red bamboo matting should be placed over the doors of those cells that required protecting from the rain during the S.W. Monsoon, and that, as this work could be done departmentally at a small outlay, he decided upon having it done and save the expense of the Verandahs.

3. The work can be struck out of the B List of the Provincial Budget.

I have the honor to be
Sir

Your most obedient servant.

J. W. Randall
