May 10th 1888.

Sir,

I have the honour to inform you that I applied to the India Office, for one months extension of my leave. In reply, I was told to furnish them with information to show that the Madras Government did not object, when they would grant me leave without pay.

I have urgent private affairs to attend to, and therefore request that you will be pleased to approve of the extension of my leave from September 19th to October 23rd.

In case you are unable to grant me this request, I should be extremely obliged if you would send the following telegram.

"Eve - Bedford - no -" at ones
reponse.

I have the honour
To be for.

Your most obedient servant.

J. F. Somers-Eve.

Your O.N. No. 2045 C. dated 30th. May 1888.

The extension applied for will be admissible under section 50 of the Civil Leave Code if supported by a medical certificate; but, if as is apparently the case, Mr. Somers-Eve requires the leave on urgent private affairs and not on medical certificate,
the extension will have to be without allowances under section 16
of the Civil Leave Code (standing order No. 219).
