Enclosure to letter No. G of 1888.

Dated Bombay, 20th March 1888.

From—The Consul for Belgium at Bombay, and Acting Consul-General for Belgium in British India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, Calcutta.

I have the honour to enclose translation of a circular issued by the Belgian Government, with reference to a prize competition which is to take place in 1892, with a view to your giving it such publicity in your Department as you may deem advisable.

[TRANSLATION.]

Circular.

By a decree of the 14th December 1874 His Majesty the King of the Belgians, purposing to encourage intellectual works, has instituted an annual prize of Fs. 25,000.

The prize accessible to international or universal competitors shall be awarded during the year 1893 to the best work in competition, which shall bear on the means of procuring the best potable water in abundance and at the least cost to large towns and specially to the whole city of Brussels, anticipating a progressive increase in the number of inhabitants.

The said work may be printed or manuscript. The new edition of an already published work on the subject shall be appraised only upon the importance of additions and improvements it may contain with respect to rival-works that may appear within any one of the other competitive periods of 1889, 1890, 1891 or 1892.

Foreigners desirous of competing for the said prize shall send in their works composed in either French, Flemish, English, German, Italian or Spanish language, to the Minister for Agriculture, Commerce and Public Works before the 1st January 1893.

The work carrying the prize shall be published during the year following that in which the prize shall have been awarded.

The judgment of the competing works shall rest with a Jury of seven members, three of whom shall be Belgians and the other four Foreigners from different nationalities to be nominated by His Majesty the King of the Belgians.

G. C. Press, Simla.—No. 168 P. W. D.—21-5-88.—1630.

Enclosure to letter No. G of 1888.

Dated Bombay, 20th March 1888.

From—The Consul for Belgium at Bombay, and Acting Consul-General for Belgium in British India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, Calcutta.

I have the honour to enclose translation of a circular issued by the Belgian Government, with reference to a prize competition which is to take place in 1892, with a view to your giving it such publicity in your Department as you may deem advisable.

[TRANSLATION.]

Circular.

By a decree of the 14th December 1874 His Majesty the King of the Belgians, purposing to encourage intellectual works, has instituted an annual prize of Fs. 25,000.

The prize accessible to international or universal competitors shall be awarded during the year 1893 to the best work in competition, which shall bear on the means of procuring the best potable water in abundance and at the least cost to large towns and specially to the whole city of Brussels, anticipating a progressive increase in the number of inhabitants.

The said work may be printed or manuscript. The new edition of an already published work on the subject shall be appraised only upon the importance of additions and improvements it may contain with respect to rival-works that may appear within any one of the other competitive periods of 1889, 1890, 1891 or 1892.

Foreigners desirous of competing for the said prize shall send in their works composed in either French, Flemish, English, German, Italian or Spanish language, to the Minister for Agriculture, Commerce and Public Works before the 1st January 1893.

The work carrying the prize shall be published during the year following that in which the prize shall have been awarded.

The judgment of the competing works shall rest with a Jury of seven members, three of whom shall be Belgians and the other four Foreigners from different nationalities to be nominated by His Majesty the King of the Belgians.
