READ—the following letter from J. W. BRASSINGTON, Esq., Consulting Architect to the Government of Madras, to the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, dated Chépák, 14th June 1888, No. 438 :—

I have the honor to submit a block-plan of the new High Court buildings, showing the positions of stacks of bricks, &c., and to request that you will kindly permit me to occupy the site with the materials.

ORDER—dated 20th June 1888, No. 1840 W., Public Works.

The arrangements proposed by the Consulting Architect for stacking material for the new High Court are approved, but as it has been decided that the South Indian Railway shall be carried along the west side of the beach road for the present, it will be necessary to stack the Cuddapah slabs, as far as space allows, from the road.
