No. 2009 74-88

The clerk cannot be allowed the actual expenses of the journey in question, unless, in accordance with section 60 (and rule) of the Civil Travelling Allowance Code, his claim is supported by a certificate signed by the Executive Engineer, and countersigned by the Supg. Engineer, to the effect that he was required to travel by special (i.e. by specified) means of conveyance, and that the use of this special (i.e. specified) means of conveyance was absolutely necessary, and specifying the circumstances which rendered it necessary.

2. No such certificate was given; but had it been given, on the statement of circumstances which must have been given in the certificate, I must have questioned the propriety of granting the certificate; because, ^{as} I understand the rule the intention is that such an order shall only be given when expeditious travelling is absolutely necessary in the interests of the public service, and it would not, in my opinion, be in accordance with the rule to give such an order, or to grant the certificate, simply to enable the clerk to draw an allowance to which he would not otherwise be entitled.

3. The case was an ordinary case of transfer, and the expense to which the clerk was put appears to have been due to the fact that he was taking his family with him, and except in certain special cases of travelling by boat or steamer "no allowances are granted to meet the expenses of the families of officers accompanying them when travelling on duty", see Civil Travelling Allowance Code section 6th rule.
