Madura the 4th August 1888.

Sir,

Upon my inspection of the Sub Registry office at Nellakota, in the Madura District, on the 20th August 1884, I remarked,

"The office is held in a native house. Fortunately it is tiled, or it may share the fate of other houses of being burnt down. A new office is indispensably necessary."

2. The Sub Registrar now complains that "the inconveniences arising from the very incommodious state of the private buildings are too many", and he asks that a new building on the standard design may be constructed.

3. Nellakota is a paying office. It is
