GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following papers :—

From H. R. GRIMES, Esq., Inspector-General of Jails, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Ootacamund, 19th June 1888, No. 262.

The Acting Superintendent of the Cannanore Central Jail applied to me a short time since to obtain orders from the Commissariat and other departments for barrack and hospital furniture and leather work, in which branches of manufactures his jail excels. I addressed the Commissary-General on the subject, and requested him to give this jail a trial in the above manufactures. In his reply he informed me that the supply of barrack and hospital furniture will be transferred to the Public Works Department from the 1st April next, in accordance with a late Order of Government, and that contracts for the supply of furniture for this year had been already entered into by Executive Commissariat Officers at the several military stations.

2. As the Government of India has requested that steps may be taken for giving a trial to jail manufactures in this Presidency, I have the honor to request that Government will reconsider their order transferring the manufacture of barrack and hospital furniture to the Public Works Department from 1st April next, and that the Central Jails of Coimbatore and Cannanore, also Her Majesty's Penitentiary at Madras, in which jails good furniture can be made, may be given a trial.

3. The Commissary-General further remarked that it would appear, from the order I have quoted, that it is contemplated to limit the demands on jails to woollen and cotton goods. This may be the case in the Bengal jails, but as I read the order, a trial is to be given to the jail manufactures of this Presidency, and as these manufactures consist of carpentry and leather work, in addition to woollen and cotton goods, tents, carpets, &c., I trust the Military supply departments may be again asked to give our jail manufactures a trial.

Referred to the Military Department for favor of remarks.

to the Secretary to Government, Military Department, dated Ootacamund, 13th July 1888, No. 2336-B.

In returning the paper referred under Proceedings of Government, No. 4586, dated 6th July 1888, I have the honor, by order of the Commander-in-Chief, to state, for the information of Government, that, in accordance with the orders of the Secretary of State contained in the extract paragraphs 178 to 182 of a note by the Finance Committee on the Bengal Provincial contract, printed on page 1 of Proceedings of Madras Government, No. 3347, dated 8th June 1887, the question of utilising the Jail department for the manufacture of barrack and hospital furniture appears to be one which should be arranged between the department of supply and the Jail department. In His Excellency's opinion, if the Jail department can furnish the department of supply with articles of furniture of the same quality and at the same price as they can be obtained in the local market, that department should be given a trial.

2. Sir Charles Arbuthnot suggests, moreover, that possibly arrangements might be made with the Jail department for repairs to all barrack and hospital furniture.

No. 4870.

Transferred to the Judicial Department, with the remark that the question of transferring the duty of supplying and repairing barrack and hospital furniture from the Commissariat to the Public Works Department is now engaging the attention of this Government in the latter department.

2. The referred papers are herewith returned.

ORDER—dated 14th August 1888, No. 1712, Judicial.

The Commissary-General is wrong in proposing—if he has proposed—to limit his purchases of jail manufactures to woollen and cotton goods. The remarks of the Government of India in paragraph 7 of Home Department Resolution, No. 10-605-18, dated 7th May 1886, quoted by the Finance Committee, are general, and cover all articles of which the consuming departments have need and which the jails can supply at the same price and of the same quality as they can be obtained in the open market.

2. The proper course is that recommended in §182 of the Finance Committee's note on the Bengal Provincial contract, viz., that definite contracts should be made for periodical supplies from jails during lengthened terms. The late influx of Burmese prisoners should enable the Central Jails at Cannanore and Trichinopoly, and perhaps at Coimbatore and the Penitentiary at Madras, to turn out furniture even better and cheaper than they have done hitherto. The Commissary-General should put himself into communication with the Inspector-General of Jails in view to the consideration of the question of making contracts for the supply of such articles of furniture, leather, &c., as his department may require and the jails be able to supply; and if the Public Works Department take over the duty of supplying and repairing barrack furniture, this question should also be considered by them.

3. The matter will also be brought to the notice of the Local and Municipal Department and of the Surgeon-General with Government, in view to hospital furniture also being obtained from jails.
