1888.

By the Resolution in this Department of the 18th April 1884, special additional pensions Rs. 2,000 and Rs. 1,000, respectively, were authorised as rewards for approved service for all Engineers who might render three years' service as Chief Engineer or as Superintending Engineer. It was not, however, decided whether the service qualifying for these special pensions should be substantive service, or whether periods of temporary service might be included. On question being raised, the opinions of selected officers were obtained and submitted to the Government of India, and after consideration of them, and in accordance with the principle laid down in the Civil Pension Code, that two officers cannot count service for pension at one time in same appointment, the Secretary of State was requested to allow active service, both substantive and temporary, to count as service qualifying for these special pensions, periods of leave being excluded.

Resolution by the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, dated 24th July 1888, No. 4047.

ad—

Paragraph 2 of Resolution by the Government of India in this Department, No. 449, dated 18th April 1884.

Despatch to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 16 P.W., dated 20th March 1888.

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 21 P.W., dated 17th May 1888.

By the Resolution in this Department of the 18th April 1884, special additional pensions Rs. 2,000 and Rs. 1,000, respectively, were authorised as rewards for approved service for Civil Engineers who might render three years' service as Chief Engineer or as Superintending Engineer. It was not, however, decided whether the service qualifying for these special pensions should be substantive service, or whether periods of temporary service might be included. On question being raised, the opinions of selected officers were obtained and submitted to the Government of India, and after consideration of them, and in accordance with the principle laid down in the Civil Pension Code, that two officers cannot count service for pension at one time in same appointment, the Secretary of State was requested to allow active service, both substantive and temporary, to count as service qualifying for these special pensions, periods of such being excluded.

Resolution—

This proposal has been sanctioned by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India. In future, therefore, all service, whether temporary or substantive, will count as service towards the extra pensions, but periods passed on leave, other than privilege leave, will be excluded.

Periods of three months and under, during which an officer merely officiates as a purely temporary measure, will not count.

2. It is important, however, to bear in mind that these extra pensions cannot be claimed as a matter of right, but that they will only be granted, at the discretion of the Government of India, as rewards of approved services.

Order—

Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded* to the Public Works Department for information and guidance, and that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.
