Sir,

copy of 249
(S.W. 4-10-88)

With reference to G.O. No 2705, dated 31st August 1888, and the statement of Establishment submitted with this Office No 745 MD I have the honor to re-⁴⁻⁹⁻⁸⁸plain that as the necessity for getting the estimates in question copied was pressing, an unpassed draughtsman was employed, the arrangement made with him being that he should be paid at certain rates for the work turned out. On receipt of the Government Order requiring that a man should be employed on stated monthly pay, the draughtsman's services were at once discontinued but as his employment

employment has, it is believed, proved much more economical than if the work were done by one in regular employment, I beg that the irregularity of employing him in anticipation of sanction may be overlooked and permission given to disburse the sum due. The charge is Rupees 71-8-0 for copying about 200 estimates (all bearing the same register number being counted as one), and for tracing all the plans of original works. As the draughtsman had to employ for some time a copyist to assist him, the salary of Rupees 20 entered in the statement of establishment would not be sufficient to remunerate him in the event of his being exempted from the rule requiring him to pass the usual examinations.

2. As the estimates received during the last few months from the the Tank Restoration Office have been particularly numerous, and it has yet been found possible to copy in two months the estimates received in five, it is submitted that the work is not sufficient to keep a fairly industrious man constantly employed. If however, it be still considered advisable to employ a man on regular pay I request that Subbie may be exempted from the ordinary examination tests in so far as may be necessary to enable him to hold a temporary appointment. His employment does not seem to have been objected to when he was a draughtsman in the Tank Division, but the rules are more strict or more strictly interpreted now. For the particular work required he has proved himself much more efficient than any passed man that I can expect to

to get for Rupees 20 a month.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Yours most Obedt Servt

W. Hughes
