done in the case of the male enclosure. This will give room for 8 female lunatics.

We discharge two civil female lunatics.

We note that windows have been provided in the new male wards as suggested by the Inspector General of jails and the District Magistrate.

1888 February 5 th	Inspected four new criminal wards. Found all satisfactory but we think that the planks should be extended so as to cover the whole of the roof. These new wards will give accommodation for 20 criminal lunatics. There are at present 25 female lunatics. Accommodation is badly wanted for more. There are 4 or 5 female lunatics in the District jail waiting admission to the Lunatic Asylum. We therefore think that one of the present work-shops in the female yard should be converted into a ward. The same measure has been	The extension of the planks is I think necessary.
		This should be done at once; it will only cost about Rs 100/- and then there will be no difficulty
