G.O., dated 8th June 1889, R. No. 283, Political.

From the Resident in Mysore, dated 5th June 1889, No. 1861-288.

In reply to your letter No. 222, Political, of the 8th May 1889, I have the honor to inform you that the land referred to in the first letter quoted (2560-288, dated the 30th July 1888) was that below No. 2 reservoir attached to Blackhully village.

2. It subsequently appeared that to effect the required purpose and remove the evils complained of, it would be necessary to throw a great deal more land out of cultivation. A rough estimate by the District Magistrate gives the amount of compensation as exceeding Rs. 70,000.

3. Considering the stage at which the water-supply question has now arrived, this appears to me an unwarrantable and unnecessary expenditure, especially as most of the nuisances to which Colonel Hasted drew notice have been removed or alleviated by improved sanitation.

Order—dated 8th June 1889, R. No. 283, Political.
