The Secretary to the Government of India
Public Works Dept:

Sir

I am directed to submit the following case for the favorable consideration and orders of the Government of India.

2. Mr. J. H. Toogood Executive Engineer, who was transferred temporarily to Madras, in Public Works Department Notification, No. 259, dated Simla the 7th September 1888, received notice of his transfer on the 8th October, after returning from privilege leave.

Sec 160, rule 2 (v) vests the power of extending joining time in the Local Govt. & I do not see why the Exr. considers the sanction of the Govt. of India to be necessary unless it is that the officer was transferred ~~from~~ under orders of that Govt. But if so I think he is wrong. I take it that from the date of the order Mr. Toogood became an officer on the Madras estabt. & at our disposal & consequently that we can pass orders in this case. Ask the Examiner by office note whether this is not so.

leave. He was at the time, a patient, in the Presidency General Hospital, Calcutta, where he had had an operation performed on the day previous viz the 7th October.

3. Mr. Toogood was detained in the hospital until late in the month, and consequently was unable to join his appointment at Kurnool, until the 6th November, whereas his joining time expired on the 26th October 1888.

4. Mr. Toogood has asked that in the circumstances, his joining time may be extended under section 160, Civil Leave Code, proviso (V), and in support of his application he submits copies of two certificates, signed by the Surgeon Superintendent of the Presidency General Hospital Calcutta, showing that the operation was performed on the 7th October, and that on the 22nd October he was still in hospital, and unfit for active work of any sort for another fortnight.

5. Unless the concession asked for be granted, I am to point out that Mr. Toogood's privilege leave will have to be converted into sick leave.

With reference to A.M's pencil note it is pointed out that the Examiner does not suggest that the sanction of India should be obtained to an Extension of Mr Toogood's joining time but he says that it does not seem to be a case in which the Local Govt can Exercise the power vested in them by Section 160, para 2 (v). The Examiner considers that the leave should be converted into sick leave and the fact [illegible] reported to India as Mr Toogood is on the India list.

I cannot say how the matter really stands in the absence of C's office note 55 d/ 17 Jany 89, which with other correspondence was forwarded to the S of S in original with our letter 2020 d/25 Jany 89. There seems to have been no direct reply to this letter and the papers sent with it have not been returned.

India's telegram, communicated to C with G.O. 1221 W d/ 9 May 89 answers one question about "joining time" – but what the connection is between this, and the railway journey for which allowances are claimed is not quite clear. Perhaps if a copy of C's 55 d/ 17 Jany 89 were obtained we might be able to decide the matter, but I cannot of course say unless I see the papers. Sending "originals" away generally causes trouble.

Copy of office note from the Examiner of P.W. Accounts, Madras, to the Secretary to Government P.W. Department No. 55 dated 17th January 1889.

I think that before attempting to dispose of Mr Toogood's case, the Bengal Government's version of the facts should be officially obtained. Mr Toogood's account as now given is hardly reconcileable with the action of the Examiner Bengal. Mr Toogood says that he rejoined in Bengal, and only received orders for transfer on the 8th October 1888 (A) in which case his allowance should only be debited to Madras from that date, but the Examiner Bengal has proposed to debit Madras as from the 6th July 1888 the date of commencement of Mr Toogood's leave, and I have agreed to accept debit as from 7th September 1888, the date on which the transfer was gazetted, the only question between us being as to the application of certain rules regarding the date from which transfer of liabilities for pay should take effect when an officer is transferred whilst on leave.

2. The material points to be ascertained on the points which may be material, are apparently

(a) the date on which the order of transfer was communicated to Mr. Toogood.

(b) the dates on which Mr. Toogood's sickness, and his certified incapacity for duty, commenced and ended.

(c) whether Mr. Toogood when he remained in Calcutta, after receipt of the order of transfer, attempting to get the order cancelled, did so on his own responsibility, or on that of the Government of Bengal.

3. If the actual date on which the transfer order was first given to Mr. Toogood were 8th October 1888 (afternoon) as stated by Mr. Toogood, then it would appear, from the medical certificate originally put in, that he was sick on that date, and the argument of my previous note holds good; but if he was not then sick — and in his present statement of his case he practically ignores the sickness altogether — he remained in Calcutta, disputing the transfer, either on the responsibility of the Government of Bengal or on his own responsibility. In the former case

Bengal

Bengal should be responsible for his allowance up to the date on which he was finally and definitely informed that his transfer was settled and that he must go. In the latter case — if he remained on his own responsibility — I do not think it can possibly be said that the overstay of joining time was caused by circumstances beyond his own control, and I do not see how his joining time can be extended by the Madras Government under Section 160-2. v of the Civil Leave Code, and unless otherwise sanctioned by the Government of India. Mr. Toogood must, I fear, forfeit his pay for the 10 days by which he exceeded his joining time; and he will also forfeit his appointment, unless exempted; and the exemption can apparently only be allowed by the Government of India as the default was not due to circumstances beyond his control (vide section 160-14. of the Civil Leave Code.

The causes which led to my travelling by rail to Kurnool were as follows:—

After reporting my return to duty in Calcutta from privilege leave and learning of my proposed transfer to this Presidency I submitted to the Chief Engineer before receipt of official order of transfer a representation asking for a reconsideration of the same by the Government of India. This representation was forwarded and acknowledged on the 8th October afternoon by the Under Secretary. Although I made frequent enquiries at the Secretariat I received no reply to this representation till the 27th October when the Under Secretary informed me of the receipt of a telegram stating that as no other arrangements could be made and I should have to go to Madras Presidency but that a letter was following — On the 30th the Under Secretary wrote to me to come over to the Office, but as I received this too late to attend that day I went on the following morning 31st when he read me the Chief Engineer's order. As the next direct British India Steamer did not leave from Madras till 9th November which would not enable me to reach Kurnool till about the 16 or 17th November I enquired from the Under Secretary whether I could proceed by rail and after making enquiries in the office he informed me that there seemed to be no objections to my travelling by that route which I consequently adopted and thus reached Kurnool on the forenoon of the 6th November. Under the above circumstances I would ask the Chief Engineer to be good enough to obtain the sanction of the Madras Government to my travelling allowances being calculated by rail and to issue the necessary instructions to the Examiner.

Disallce List No. 339 of 1888-89
Office note from the Gr. P.W.A. (H.E. No. 917 d/ July 1, 1889)
do from the C. E. for I. (" " 1436 d/ " 26 ")

Mr. Toogood explains that the preliminaries regarding his transfer to Madras were not finally settled till the 31st October 1888, that the next steamer for Madras was not to leave Calcutta till the 9th November, and that had he waited for the opportunity he would not have reached Kurnool till the 16th or 17th Novr. He, therefore, with the concurrence of the authorities in Bengal, left Calcutta by rail on the 31st October, arriving at Kurnool on the 6th November - and thus saved 10 days. In these circumstances sanction is accorded, under para 1090 of the Civil Service Regulations, to the route adopted.
