Notes of an inspection of the ²⁴⁵Accounts of Cash and Service labels, also of service books in the ^{Year 2}Secretariat Office of the Tank Restoration Scheme, at Madras on the 6th August 1889.

The charges in the cash book of March, April and May 1889 were examined and found to include nothing which had not undergone audit in contingent bills sent to the Examiner's Office. The cash book is neatly and clearly kept, each month's expenditure as audited in the contingent bill being recouped from the Presidency Division.
Charges for service labels were traced into the Postages account which was found in order. The balance of cash as per cash book and of service labels as per Postages Account were verified by count and found correct.

2. In the service book of Draftsman M.
Vasudeva Iyer, the date of attestation is entered in pencil only. There are remarks amounting to certificates of character in the service books which under present orders (see art 883 of Civil Service Regulations) is irregular.
