Sir,

I have the honor to request, as a favor, that you would kindly send me a copy of Mr. Larmine's Report on the Water Supply of Bangalore.

I am led to make this request, as I find, by the Indian Engineering, ~~as I find~~, that though my scheme yields an ample and the purest supply, yet being the dearest it has, on that account, not been accepted.

It is possible that viewing the subject under interests different from those of Mr. Larmine, I might yet, ^{succeed} in making out a case in favor of my scheme for the consideration of Government.

I would therefore feel thankful for a copy of the report and for permission to address you on the subject. I would not attempt any controversy on opinions or views expressed, but will simply confine myself to show, if if possible, how the cost of my scheme may be reduced; and I seek permission to address you only on this subject.
