H.O. 20.7.87
 R.B.

P.W. D.
 22/7/87

With reference to letter from the Govt. of India No 394 To D of 14.10.87, & the H.O.'s notes on the papers attached to G.O.
 No 2681 W of 25.9.87, the case of the Collector's residence at Chittoor is resubmitted for orders.

As already stated,
 the rent of the building
 according to the rules, would be Rs 128 per annum, if the allowance for repairs be taken at the full rate of 3 percent, or about 116 per annum, if the actual average cost of repairs be taken.
 The G.O. have just shown that the latter method of calculation is admissible.

Orders are required whether the case should be

be submitted to the G.O.S. as falling under Rule II, and if so, what reduced rate of rent should be recommended.

The Collector suggests Rs 30 per annum as a fair rate, but this will probably be considered altogether out of proportion to the cost of the building.

Letter from the G.O.S. by 394 W of 14-10-89, recorded in Proc. of Govt. P.W. Dept - by 3076 W of 31-10-89

14 Nov.

In its letter above quoted, the Govt. of India declines to sanction a relaxation of the rules regarding house rent, envisaged in para 104 of P.W. Code, but it points out in para 5 that the allowance for repairs may be based on the average actual cost for a series of years. From the papers before the Govt., it is observed that the average annual cost of repairs to the 2
Collection

Collector's house at Chittoor is about Rs 409 or about 2 1/4 per cent on the capital cost of Rs 18,225. Calculating on this basis, the rent will be about Rs 116 per mensem, - the rate against which the Collector has appealed.

2. Having regard to the accommodation provided, the Govt. does not consider this rate excessive, & sees no sufficient reason to refer the case merely to the Govt. of India. The above rate will therefore be adhered to.
