OFFICE NOTE No. 1085.

To

W.

With reference to G.O.No.3136 W. dated 5th.November 1889,I beg to point out that unless some serial numbering is adopted in addition to the year of manufacture it will hardly be possible to follow up and identify any instrument,in the manner apparently contemplated.

also

2. It might be convenient to have some uniform position for the distinguishing mark according to the kind of instrument.

Farvellers -

There will be no difficulty about future supplies being made but I should say P.R.D. with year of manufacture is quite sufficient to keep the record of instruments arranged in the order of date of purchase and the number of each instrument. The serial number of each instrument should be stamped consecutively on the supply of mathematical instruments in future

Read the following

Office note from the Commr. P.W.D. No 1685 dt 25th Nov 1889

It is not considered necessary to adopt any serial system of numbering for mathematical instruments, as the cases in which their identification and recovery would be facilitated by such marking, will be few; but as regards surveying instruments the matter will again be taken up on receipt of a reply from the India Office to a reference made on the subject - vide G.O. No 3136 Waf 5th Nov 1889.
