OFFICE NOTE.

From W.

To C.

The comparative statement of grants and expenditure to end of August 1889 submitted by you shows that the audited outlay under Establishment up to July 1889 is Rs 7,33,343 and that the probable expenditure under that head during 1889-90 will be Rs. 22,00,000. As the budget grant for Establishment is Rs. 23,28,165, a sum of Rs 1,00,000 will probably be saved. 3

2. A reference to your office notes Nos. 1373 and 1397 of 21st and 27 September 1889 respectively shows that little or no savings are anticipated. Please therefore let me know what sum can be transferred from "Establishment" to "Works".

3. The additional allotments sanctioned during the year may be considered sufficient to meet all unforeseen demands.

To W.

The sum of Rs.7,33,343 referred to by you represents the total payments on account of establishments to end of July 1889 and not audits on which alone, the savings should be based.

2. The total audits to end of October 1889 (i.e) for 7 months in the year is Rs.13,09,658 and the estimated outlay for the remainder of the year based on average for the 7 months is Rs.9,35,465 making a total of Rs. 22,45,121 for the entire year against a grant of Rs.21,88,321. There is therefore no reason to anticipate any saving.

3. The abolition of the Ramnad Division will make no appreciable difference, as the cost of office establishment is only Rs.1,300 for 5 months.
