For orders. 52-53

The Examiner made a somewhat similar proposal at the beginning of this year - vide para 20 of his note, page 6, of L.O. No. 1335 W of 7.5.84, so there does not seem any use in referring the present letter to him for opinion - Please see also para 10 of the Govt. order in the same Proc.

It would apparently be inadvisable to give Pres. advice to one person & not another - A man may not be a native of Madras, or may not have been born in or near the Presidency Town, & yet he may have been settled down with his family for years at the Pres. Town, have obtained his appt.

here. Such a one would have no more right to Presy. all else than a man born in the Town.

The difficulty would be where to draw the line.

Cu
11.12.48

I entirely agree that it would be impossible to draw the line.

An officer might be born in Madras, leave the town for 20 years, and then return, without any family, or next home in Madras, & yet he would not be entitled to the allowance.

I consider that the rule could not be worked without great inconsistencies.

A note for orders should be put up on these lines.

In any case the ruling should only apply to natives of India as defined by the Act of State.

Calcutta, the 1st December 1888.

Sir,

I am directed to point out that natives of Bengal or persons born in or near Calcutta of all classes of Establishment employed in the Public Works Department are precluded from receiving Presidency Allowances, vide Note to para. 24, Chapter I, Vol. I of the Public Works Code. I am therefore to enquire whether there are any special reasons why natives of Madras or persons born

born in or near the Presidency town should not be similarly treated in the matter of drawing Presidency allowances.

I can't see how the fact of an birthplace can affect his expenses from receiving Pres.

ciple seems to me entirely absurd.
I suppose it is assumed that a man has an ancestral house in the place where he was born. If so the assumption is not so general true in this Presidency as to warrant a general rule based on it. Enquiries would be necessary in such cases and not worth making.

similarly treated.

FOR ORDERS.

The Examiner made a somewhat similar suggestion at the beginning of this year, with respect to the Accounts Establishment vide para 20 of his note at page 6 of Proceedings dated 7th May 1888, &c. 1335 W. also para 10 of the Government order thereon.

The undersigned submits that it would be most difficult to draw the line with respect to who should receive the allowance and who should not. An officer who is not a native of Madras, might yet have been domiciled at the Presidency Town for years and have have received his appointment there. He would nevertheless be entitled to Presidency allowance, while another might be born at Madras, leave the Town for twenty years, and then return to it on transfer, without any family or real home there, and yet he would not be entitled to the allowance.

In any case if the Government of India ruling be accepted, it is thought that it should apply only to natives of India as defined by Statute.

Sir,

I am directed to acknow-receiving presidency allowances, and inquiring whether there are any special reasons not be similarly treated.

2. In reply, I am directed to state that this Govt fail to see how the fact of a man's birthplace can affect his expenses, and that in their opinion, the proposed rule could not be worked without great inconsistencies. It is apparently assumed

Yes, the assumption is not so generally true

would be necessary
