Letter from the Superintending Engineer, Puriyar Report, No. 54 P.R., dated 12th January 1889.

Note by the Chief Engineer

M<sup>r</sup>. Wickham Account.

Engineer, Puriyar, had his office box <sup>broken open</sup> ~~broken~~ on the night of the 21st October and Rs 248:6:3 of Government money that was in it was lost.

2. I consider that M<sup>r</sup>.
Wickham was allowed a much larger impment than necessary or advisable, and most certainly he ought to have been provided with a proper cash chest. The Puriyar works have been in progress more than a year and the expense that

Cash -

Cash-chests were indented for in August but not supplied can hardly be accepted.

3. Mr Wickham is of course responsible for the money lost, but considering that he was given charge of large sums, and was not provided with a cash-chest or any means of security, it would I think be hard to make him pay the amount lost.

The Executive Engineer Mr Taylor ought to have seen months ago that a sufficient number of cash-chests were provided and in their absence have made arrangements for the safe security of the money.

4. Under the circumstances

I consider that the loss of <sup>the</sup> Rs 248:6:3 may be borne by Government but that the attention of the Superintending Eng<sup>r</sup>.

should be called to the carelessness that has occasioned the loss and

Mr Taylor and Mr

Wickham be reprimanded.

The fault for not seeing in the absence of a proper cash-chest (that should have been provided months before) that a large amount of cash was not kept in the hands of the Assistant Engineer, and the latter for having against Code rules kept the cash in an office box with his own money without any one being in charge of it.
