In orders.

The prohibition in Code para 9904 apparently applies to the roofs of main buildings, not to the construction of thatched bandals round them -

At most very hot stations such bandals are put up under the orders of the officials occupying Govt. offices.

If it is not considered necessary to prohibit the practice altogether, an order might perhaps be passed to the effect that such bandals when put up, are at the risk of the head of the office in occupation of the building

Copy of letter from C. H. T. Norfor Esqre Executive Engineer, Negapatam Division, to the Superintending Engineer VI Circle No: 3198 dated 11th October 1889.

I have the honor to inform you that thatched Pandals are to be seen in the St. Josephs College Buildings. In this connection, I beg to draw attention to para 994 of the P. W. Code and re-quest to be informed if it is not my duty to order the immediate removal of these Pandals. There is a Pandal round the Sub Judge's Court and in other parts of the Main Buildings.

No 1614 T J.

Submitted to the Chief Engineer, P. W. D. for orders of Government.

2. Paras 994 and 1143 of the P. W. Code prohibit thatched roofs except in the case of buildings of small importance of a temporary character and removed fro other buildings; but there is nothing specially prohibiting thatched pandals and in practice almost every public building is being provided with this kind kind of pandals. It should therefore be decided whether the Code rules refer also to pandals, or only to roofs of buildings.

3. If thatched pandals are prohibited the expense entailed by the necessary con=struction of uninflamable ones. Shades all over the Presidency will be very considerable.
