28TH APRIL 1890, No. 1233 W., PUBLIC WORKS.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.
PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

General.
Establishment.

READ—the following paper :—

Office note from the Examiner, Public Works Accounts, dated Madras, 14th April 1890, No. 2101.

The Superintending Engineer, III Circle, has referred to me the question whether the watcher entertained for the care of the rest-house at Sidhout, instead of being charged to petty establishment with the sanction of the Government under Code para. 23, might be charged to a repair estimate under Code para. 964, which lays down that repair estimates should provide for "all watchmen sanctioned by competent authority (i.e., Superintending Engineer) for the care of vacant buildings."

2. If the Superintending Engineer cannot then sanction the watcher himself, he wishes to do without him, and hand over the key of the building to the revenue officials in the cutcherry close by, an arrangement which would hardly be in accordance with Code para. 1042-A (1), according to which the rest-house should be in charge of the Executive Engineer. Under the arrangement proposed the building would apparently not be in any body's charge.

3. The rest-house probably is, to all intents and purposes, a "vacant building" for many or most days in the month, and there would seem to be no objection to treating it as such for the purposes of Code para. 964, but there seems to be no reason for treating this particular rest-house differently from others, and I therefore beg to inquire whether the Government is willing to rule generally that rest-houses may be considered "vacant buildings" and that watchmen entertained in connection with them may be charged to repairs under Code para. 964.

ORDER—dated 28th April 1890, No. 1233 W., Public Works.

The Government does not approve the suggestion in para. 3 of the Examiner's note, and considers that charges for watchmen employed in connection with rest-houses should come under scrutiny and be sanctioned under the head establishment. The employment of special watchmen for rest-houses should, however, be rarely necessary, as it will generally be possible to arrange for their custody with the village officials on payment of a small remuneration.

The Superintending Engineer 3rd. Circle has referred to me the question whether the watcher entertained for the care of the rest house at Sidhout, instead of being charged to petty establishment with the sanction of the Government under code para 23, might be charged to a repair estimate under code para 934 which lays down that repair estimates should provide for "all watchmen sanctioned by competent authority (i.e. Superintending Engineer) for the care of vacant buildings".

2. If the Superintending Engineer cannot then sanction the watcher himself, he wishes to do without him, & hand over the key of the building to the revenue officials in the cutcherry close by, an arrangement which would hardly be in accordance with code para 1042 A(I), according to which the rest house should be in charge of the Executive Engineer. Under the arrangement proposed the building would apparently not be in any body's charge.

3. The rest house probably is, to all intents and purposes a "vacant building" for many or most days in the month, and there would seem to be no objection to treating it as such for the purposes of code para 964, but there seems to be no reason for treating this particular rest house differently from others, and I therefore beg to inquire whether the Government is willing to rule generally, that rest houses may be considered "vacant buildings" and that watchmen entertained in connection with them may be charged to repairs under code para 964.

I am approve it and I think it very advisable that the charges for such watchmen should come under section 964 and not under section 964. Otherwise we shall have many of them rest houses equipped with cooks & waiters for P.W. Subordinate, entertained under the designation of watchmen for repairs. Code para 964 cannot have been intended for such cases. Watchmen ought hardly ever to be entertained for rest houses. If they contain anything to be watched, a sufficient number of village officers would be sufficient & safer than a special watchman.
