Office note from the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, dated Madras, 1st September 1890, No. 5204.

From the correspondence printed with G.O., No. 1929 W., dated 17th July 1890, it would appear that the custodian of surveying and levelling instruments is the Superintendent of Stationery, but the General Superintendent, Public Works Stores Division, in reply to a reference made to him by me on the subject, states that surveying and levelling instruments are in his charge, and this is apparently as it should be, as, under G.O., No. 1531 W., dated 8th June 1889, drawing and mathematical instruments only are to be obtained from the Stationery Department.

2. As it is desirable to make the Code rules on the subject clear, I would suggest that Government be asked to define what instruments should be indented for by and kept in the custody of the Superintendent of Stationery and what by the General Superintendent, Public Works Stores.

ORDER—dated 13th September 1890, No. 2452 W., Public Works.

The Government considers that drawing and mathematical instruments should be indented for and kept in the custody of the Superintendent of Stationery; surveying and levelling instruments will be indented for and kept in the Public Works Stores.
