The Chief Engineer and
Secretary to Government P.W.D.
Madras.

Sir,

With reference to G.O. No. 3149 W
5th March 1889

I beg to point out that Para 666 of the Code precludes the grant of Compensation for private property, only when it is lost or destroyed by accident. But in this case every thing goes to show that my house was set on fire intentionally for the purpose of destroying government records that were in my charge. The house could not have been destroyed by accident, as no one was in it at the time, but I was a Chinaman in charge, who was never known to keep a light, and who stated that he was awaked at about 12 in the night by the noise the fire made. He was sleeping in the verandah, which was on the North side of the house, and as the South-west winds were prevailing at the time (the month of July) the incendiary was able to choose a portion of the building far from where he slept, the South-west corner the most favorable for his object. Besides certain records were asked to be produced in the Sessions Court at Madurai, in connection with a trial for forgery of a clerk of the Department. And the fact that the house was burnt just before the notice of the Court reached me, shows very strongly that it was done intentionally.

2. I should also mention that my property would not have suffered if my office had not been in the same building in which I lived, there being no other available. And that the roof of the building was thatched.

3. I had no connection with the forgery (except being in charge of the records) as it was committed a few months before I took charge of the Sub Division.

4. In this case Government might grant compensation even to a private individual and therefore one of its servants may hope for more favorable consideration.

5. I therefore beg to request that my application for compensation may be reconsidered under the exceptional circumstances mentioned.

6. My reason for not submitting this application earlier is that I had many difficulties to contend with in the Ramnad Zamin dary, which engrossed all my attention. I also thought that I could afford to overlook the loss I sustained, if I had been paid the salary of Rs 400 that I expected to get.

I beg to remain
Sir

Yours most obedt servant.

M. Taylor
