Letter from the Executive Engineer Ma-dura to the Suptg. Engineer 11 Circle No. 613 Et. dated 17th Jan'y/90

With reference to the accompanying Disallowance List's items 2 & 3, I have the honor to enquire whether the Travelling Allowance Rules published as part of the Civil Service Regulations are not to be taken as complete in themselves and as superseding all previous Codes and rules on the subject of travelling allowances.
If such be the case, I do not think Examiners can be right in disallowing cost of Camp equipage during hunts at Mend Quantas on the ground of such equipage being private property since the regulations make no distinction between hired & private Camp equipage.

of the question raised by the Executive Engineer.

2. Code appendix 11 quoted by the Engineer in his disallowance list is dated as S. O. 110.446. of 6.8.88 and is based upon the provisional issue of V. A. Code - This Code is superseded by the C. S. Regulations which came into force on the 1st May 189, and it is no longer to be quoted. The order of the Govt. of India prefaced to the C. S. Regulations. The subsidiary rules in the Code appendix 11. cannot therefore be considered to be in force.

3. Article 1164 in C. S. Regulations makes no distinction between camp equipage which is private private property & equipage hind.

Cost of camp equipage for halts at H. & L.

Submits for orders the question of Examiner disallowing the reports interpretation of of Civil Regulations relating to the subject

To E.W.

Forwarded.

2. There are no alterations or amendments in the new rules as regards the meaning of the term "camp equipage" and the Government of India have decided that the expression "actual expenses of keeping up camp equipage" does not include the cost of maintaining private conveyance of any sort. This decision is embodied in Appendix N, para 12, and without the sanction of the Government of India actual expenses cannot be admitted unless supported by a certificate in form M.133 A, vide para 27(I) Appendix N.

3. I may add that the portion of Civil Service Regulations relating to travelling allowance is practically a reprint of the old Civil Travelling Allowance Code, and that the relevancy of Appendix N is not at all affected by the issue of the Civil Service Regulations. The references in the appendix should however be corrected, by substituting references to Civil Service Regulations for references to Civil Travelling Allowance Code, and this will now be done without delay.
