Most Respected Sir,

Your humble petitioner respectfully begs to show, that your humble petitioner has been serving in the Department as a draughtsman for a period of 22 years and 8 months to the entire satisfaction of his superiors.

That the petitioner a large family to protect, & he has no other income except this small hard earned salary.

That his services have not completed yet 23 years.

That in the reduction they pitch up on this miserable petitioner as one of such to be excluded from services.

That your petitioner, most earnestly implodes his employers' kind sympathy and kind interference in allowing him to remain in office for a short period of ~~three~~ months so that he may complete 23 yrs including the period of notice and entitle him for a pension that a service of 23 years may allow him.

That he further earnestly begs that he may with a kind and sympathetic heart be sanctioned a pension calculating up on his former salary of Rupees 30 per mensem.

For this act of kindness your humble petitioner shall ever pray and feel highly obliged.

begs most respectfully to remain Respectful

Sir

In the note attached to
No. 5624 of 21.2.90, a promise was made to the Hon., that if experience showed that further reduction in the drawing branch was feasible at the end of 1990-91, ~~either~~ either the head or second draftsman would be discharged.

For orders whether any action is now required.

If the proposed amalgamation of the Sanitary Engineer's
Dept. with the H.O.D. is carried out, it may be necessary to strengthen the Tech-section of the H.O.D.
It will then perhaps be desirable to Continue the drawing branch into the technical section, so that it would probably be well to let the drawing branch be for the present.

A return of work done up to February 1890, is submitted, also a statement showing present employees.

Irrespective of this drawing work, the total number of other drawings that were transferred with letters to the Survey Office for Photozincography, as well as the examination of their respective proofs was 64.

136 Plans (many in two, four and 16 sections) were completed by the D Branch up to end of February 1890. Besides this, the work of drafting Memos, Endorsements and letters, auditing Store Accounts, and despatching Surplus Stores to the P.W. Stores, and Stationery Office, verifying service registers of the D branch, also those of the late Lithographic Press. Issuing Type designs for references, Registering work and Indexing Civil and Military Standard Plans, which are now completed, had to be done.

The object of maintaining a Central Office is to prepare for lithographing all drawings which are received in such a state that it would be impossible to obtain good impressions from them.

The D branch being composed of Lithographers is able to turn out very effective large drawings suitable for Photocopying, their enlarged accurate drawings when reduced by the Survey Office, always gave entire satisfaction to the departments concerned.

In my opinion no further reduction in the D branch is feasible, without the risk of delay in the preparation of plans so that time has to be lithographed by the Survey Office. The register shows that the establishment has been fully occupied during the past year, & there is every reason to expect that work will increase, as the advantages of the photo-zinc process become more widely known.

The return of work is big enough, but contains very little. The outturn seems to be very small for a staff of seven draughtsmen headed by a man on Rs 150.
Many of the plans described are mere diagrams & small sketches and a lot of the clerical work described is not such as should be imposed on the special subsistence. I consider that further reduction should be made & that these special men would be amply sufficient.

His average emoluments will be entitled to a

Rs 10-10 per mensem.

If granted the extra three months service, he will be entitled to $\frac{23}{60}$ of 29

If the request be request be granted, he will really receive only one month's pay more than he would otherwise do. The difference in pension will be only 6 annas per mensem, but it may be a material sum to the man.

He further brings that his pension was calculated on his former salary of Rs. 30. While he drew prior to the reduction of 31st March

Under Article 483 C.S.R., his pension must not be less than what he would have the time his pay was have been $\frac{21}{60}$ of 30 or

There are no other men in D branch in a similar position to C.

P. Lingaravuloo is entitled to half pension, but not to half his present pay, ^(Rs 60) his "average emoluments" on 31-12-1911 will be Rs 48, & his pension will therefore be Rs 24 per m.
To be entitled to half three years -

S. Parthasarathy. I understand is not entitled has 18 years service, he has only about 8 years

Note

Drawing Branch, Chief
Engineer's Office

With reference to the H. M. S. note on the accy. papers, the undersigned suggests that the following reductions be made in the Drawing Branch of the Chief Engineer's Office

	Pay
3 draughtsmen	Rs 60 per annum
5 " "	25 " "
6 " "	20 " "
1 lascar	6 " "
Total reduction	111 - or per annum

Rs 1332 per annum, leaving 4 draughtsmen and one lascar -

The undersigned would deprecate too sudden a reduction of the staff to the extent intimated by the H. M. as in times of pressure, drawing work may fall seriously into arrears.

It is difficult to estimate from a mere return of work, the labor & time taken up in reproducing some of the maps & plans sent in to render them fit for the process of photozincography.

If the H. Co. insists on the staff ^{being} reduced to three draftsmen, the second draftsman on Rs 100 must be discharged, but this would leave no margin for absence, and in the event of the head draftsman falling sick or taking privilege leave, the Dy. Chief Eng. would have no man left on whom he could rely to satisfactorily manage the branch.

Both the head and second draftsmen have made themselves very useful during the year, and while the former supervises the details of drawing work, the latter in addition to drawing work, is the responsible storekeeper of the branch.

As before stated, there is every reason to expect that the work will increase as the advantages of the photozinc. process become better known, but should experience show that further reduction is feasible at the end of 1890-91, either the head or the second draftsman can be discharged.

The accompanying draft order is therefore submitted for approval. It makes provision for the employment of temporary draftsmen in times of pressure, but the Dy. Chief Eng. will see that temporary men are not taken on unless absolutely necessary & in each case sanction of course will be obtained.
