LICENSE

To the Eastern Extension Australasia and China Telegraph Company, Limited, for landing at Madras and subsequently working Submarine Telegraph Cables connecting that Port with Penang.

THE Governor General of India in Council is pleased, under the provisions of Act XIII of 1885 of the Legislative Council of India, entitled "An Act to amend the law relating to Telegraphs in India," to grant to the Eastern Extension Australasia and China Telegraph Company, Limited (hereinafter referred to as 'the Company'), a License to land at Madras the shore ends of the two submarine telegraph cables, specified below, and to connect the same with and to fix and establish them in the Government Telegraph Office at Madras, aforesaid, which is to be the terminus of the said cables within the British Territories in India:—

1. Madras-Penang Cable No. 1 landed at Madras, 1870.
2. Madras-Penang Cable No. 2 to be landed at Madras in 1891.

2. This License shall not confer upon the said Company any right to lay or place the said cables in, over, upon, or under any land or ground, street, road or place in Madras, but any permission for that purpose required by the said Company shall be obtained by them at their own expense from the person or persons, body or bodies corporate, legally entitled to grant the same.

3. The signalling officers or clerks from time to time employed by the said Company shall be accommodated in the Government Telegraph Office at Madras if the Government so desire, and all messages intended for transmission or despatch from Madras by the telegraph of the said Company, and all messages received by or through such telegraph, and intended for delivery in Madras or elsewhere in India, shall in such case be respectively received and delivered by the officers, clerks, or servants employed by Government in the said Government Telegraph Office at Madras, but it shall be lawful for the said Company to employ signalling officers or clerks, and to use its own instruments, machines and apparatus in the said Government Telegraph Office at Madras.

4. The system, including all regulations, conditions and restrictions, which from time to time shall be in force in respect to international messages or shall be prescribed by any international convention to which the Government of India is or may become a party, shall in all things apply to the messages of the Company.

5. This License is granted to the "Eastern Extension Australasia and China Telegraph Company, Limited," and cannot be assigned, transferred or otherwise disposed of, and in the event of any attempt being made on the part of the said Company to assign, transfer, or dispose of the same, or of any order being made by any Court for winding up the said Company, or of any Resolution being passed by the said Company requiring it to be wound up voluntarily, or of the dissolution of the said Company by any means whatsoever, this License shall ipso facto cease and determine.

The License granted on the 7th July 1873 is hereby revoked.

Given under the hand and seal of Colonel Frederick Jervis Home, Royal Eng. Deputy Secretary to the Government of India in the Public Works Department, for and on behalf of His Excellency the Governor General of India in Council.
