GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Civil Works.

READ—the following papers :—

From Lieutenant-Colonel W. P. TOMKINS, C.I.E., R.E., Chief Engineer, Madras Command Military Works, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Ootacamund, 1st December 1890, No. 7040.

I have the honor to inform you that I am in receipt of an estimate, amounting to Rs. 8,450, for enlarging St. Mark's Church at Bangalore, and request that I may be favored with an allotment of, say, Rs. 1,000 this year, and that provision may be made in next year's budget for the remainder.

2. I understand that this work was sanctioned about 30 years ago and the Chaplain is now pressing for its execution.

From the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, to the Chief Engineer, Military Works, Madras Command, dated 8th December 1890, No. 5095 C.

With reference to your letter, No. 7040, dated 1st December 1890, I have the honor to state that, as pointed out in para. 2 of G.O., No. 1487 W., dated 28th May 1890, expenditure on Government churches is subject to the limitations prescribed in appendix D, Madras Public Works Code, and to request that the plan and estimate for enlarging St. Mark's Church, Bangalore, may be forwarded for scrutiny with reference to those rules, and for submission to Government, if necessary.

From Rev. S. MORLEY, B.A., Bishop's Chaplain, to the Honorable the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Madras, 6th December 1890, No. 927.

I have the honor, by desire of the Right Reverend the Bishop, to ask you to bring before the Government the pressing need of the enlargement of St. Mark's Church, Bangalore.

2. The plans, &c., were forwarded to the Chief Engineer's office early in the year. There has, for some cause, been a delay in attending to them, but the Bishop learns the Chief Engineer has now addressed Government on the matter. A proposed enlargement of St. Mark's was sanctioned about 30 years ago, but the sanction was withdrawn as the funds allotted were required for military works.

3. A letter from the Brigadier-General Commanding Bangalore is enclosed. From this it will be seen that officer considers the enlargement is much needed and should be made as soon as practicable. The church at present cannot seat all the troops at parade service, and the Chaplain informs the Bishop that there is very little accommodation for soldiers at the evening service.

4. His Lordship would earnestly press this subject upon the attention of Government. The need of better accommodation has long been felt, and has been a great inconvenience both to the Chaplain and the congregation.

ENCLOSURE.

Demi-official letter from Brigadier-General H. M. BENGOUGH, C.B., dated Bangalore, 2nd December 1890.

As regards the enlargement of St. Mark's Church, I am strongly of your opinion that the proposed alteration should be carried out as soon as practicable. The present arrangement is, as you say, convenient for neither the civil or military congregations, and when the next drafts from home join the Yorkshire, the inconvenience will be still greater.

I should be very glad if the Bishop would press the matter.

Transferred to the Public Works Department.

11th December 1890. (Signed) J. F. PRICE,
Chief Secretary.

From Lieutenant-Colonel W. P. TOMKINS, C.I.E., R.E., Chief Engineer, Madras Command Military Works, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Ootacamund, 11th December 1890, No. 7355.

With reference to your No. 5095 C., dated 8th instant, I have the honor to forward, herewith, plan and estimate for enlarging St. Mark's Church at Bangalore, the latter amounting to Rs. 8,450.

From the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, to the Chief Engineer, Madras Command Military Works, dated 17th December 1890, No. 5302 C.

With reference to your letter, No. 7355, dated 11th December 1890, I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to ascertain and report, for the information of Government, what troops attend St. Mark's Church, Bangalore.

2. Under rule VI, section IV, appendix D, Madras Public Works Code, the number of sittings allowed for a regiment of British Infantry is 450, and there are already available in the church 421 sittings or only 29 short of that number. It is now proposed to provide accommodation for 211 additional sittings. Before the estimate of Rs. 8,450 can be sanctioned, it is necessary to see that the requirements of the code are met in respect to the number of troops attending the church.

3. It is observed that the report accompanying the estimate refers to a separate estimate for the additional benches required. If these latter are to be provided at the Government expense, the cost should be included in the general estimate, as the whole cost of enlarging and furnishing the church will be met from Provincial funds. The estimate for additional furniture, moreover, must be checked with reference to rule XVIII, section IV, appendix D, Madras Public Works Code.

4. The enclosures of your letter are returned for reference.

From Lieutenant-Colonel W. P. TOMKINS, C.I.E., R.E., Chief Engineer, Madras Command Military Works, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated Ootacamund, 5th January 1891, No. 73.

With reference to your letter, No. 5302 C., dated 17th December 1890, I have the honor to forward, for information, copy of letter, No. 23, dated 3rd January 1891, from the Executive Engineer, Bangalore, regarding the number of troops attending the parade service at St. Mark's Church.

2. With reference to para. 3 of your letter under reply, I have the honor to inform you that, in Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Works Department,

137-8

No. 2461 W., dated 13th September 1890, an allotment for new benches for St. Mark's Church, amounting to Rs. 193, was sanctioned; this would appear to be the estimate alluded to.

3. The enclosures received with your letter are herewith returned.

ENCLOSURE.

From the Executive Engineer, Bangalore Division Military Works, to the Chief Engineer, Madras Command Military Works, dated 3rd January 1891, No. 23.

With reference to your No. 7709 of the 22nd December 1890, I have the honor to report that the average number of troops now attending the parade service at St. Mark's Church is 450.

2. The Chaplain further reports that "the civilians in the station have been requested not to come to the 11 o'clock parade service, but yet the accommodation in the church is not sufficient for all the regiment and therefore 2 or 3 companies are now attending the 8-30 A.M. service. It should be remembered that the number of Church of England men in a regiment is usually more than that in the regiment which is now stationed here."

3. I applied to the local military authorities for the information required who called upon the Chaplain to report.

4. I would add that St. Mark's Church is told off for the British Infantry regiment. The Resident and the Brigadier-General Commanding have sittings allotted them in this church.

ORDER—dated 17th January 1891, No. 137 W., Public Works.

The proposed addition to St. Mark's Church, Bangalore, will increase its accommodation to a total of 532 sittings, or 82 sittings in excess of the number allowed for a regiment of British Infantry in rule VI, section IV, appendix D, Public Works Code. As, however, the extra accommodation is considered by the Right Reverend the Bishop and the military authorities to be urgently required, the estimate will be forwarded to the Government of India for sanction as a special case.
