The Superintending Engineer

Sir,

With reference to your No. 1520 dated 28th April 1891, I have the honor to report that it is impossible to foresee what Iron will be required during a year, the difficulties being as follow:-

I The limit of the Value of the stock is not sufficient owing to the accumulation of stores for which there is no demand. This will be reported upon at a later date

II Orders come from different sources for quantities of one or more sizes with which the stores are utterly unable to foresee

The Workshops also sometimes has large orders requiring certain sizes

A list of Iron required for for an order of 57 shutters last year is herewith sent for your information

III If urgent orders are perpetually being sent home during the

PW 81/5914/91

the year the cost of iron will be considerably increased
