5TH JUNE 1891, No. 6, MARINE.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

LETTER—to

THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

MY LORD,

With advertence to the concluding portion * of paragraph 8 of our Proceedings, Marine Department, No. 25, dated 22nd

* "The Government also considers that it would be desirable to offer a young Engineer officer of a mechanical turn some inducement to make a study of lighthouse buildings and apparatus in use in England and France during his absence from duty on furlough. The Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, will be requested to report on the point."

January 1891, copy of which was forwarded with our letter, Marine No. 2, dated 28th January 1891, we have the honour to inform Your Lordship that the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, has laid before us the name of Mr. F. W. Ashpitel, Assistant Engineer, Public Works Department, first grade, at present in England on 19 months' furlough from the 1st March last, who has expressed his willingness to undertake, while on leave, the study of lighthouse buildings and apparatus in use in England and France.

2. We, therefore, beg that Mr. Ashpitel may be communicated with, and—if Your Lordship approves—that the necessary arrangements may be made to allow of his inspecting such English lighthouses as Your Lordship may deem desirable and being instructed in the working of the apparatus in use in them. It seems to us advisable that he should also gain some knowledge of the buildings and apparatus of the principal lights on the French Coast, and, should Your Lordship see no objection to this, we would ask that the facilities requisite for this may be afforded to Mr. Ashpitel.

3. We propose that he should be granted his travelling expenses, and a bonus, not exceeding Rs. 1,000, to be paid to him on return to this country if the reports submitted by him are satisfactory. As Mr. Ashpitel will not return to India until late in 1892, it may be advisable to defer his inspection of lighthouses for some time in view to his becoming acquainted with the latest appliances in use.

4. In conclusion, we would request that we may be furnished with copies of the reports or notes which Mr. Ashpitel may, from time to time, submit to Your Lordship under the rules laid down in His Grace the Duke of Argyll's Public Works despatch, No. 10, dated 31st July 1873, to this Government.

We have the honour to be,
My Lord,
Your Lordship's most obedient, humble servants,

(Signed) WENLOCK.

READ—the following paper :—

No. 95 D.

MEMORANDUM.

Note by the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, dated 23rd April 1891.

In paragraph 8 of G.O., No. 25, dated 22nd January 1891, Marine, the Government expressed the opinion that it would be desirable to offer a young Engineer officer of a mechanical turn some inducement to make a study of lighthouse buildings and apparatus in use in England and France during his absence from duty on furlough, and the Chief Engineer was requested to report on the point.

2. After inquiry, the Chief Engineer would be disposed to nominate Mr. A. T.
Mackenzie, Assistant Engineer, 1st grade, now employed on the Periyár Project, who has expressed his willingness to go through the required course, but Mr. Mackenzie does not intend to proceed on furlough before the next twelve months. Failing Mr.
Mackenzie, the Chief Engineer recommends Mr. F. W. Ashpitel, Assistant Engineer, 1st grade, who is now at home on nineteen months' furlough, which commenced on the 1st March. Mr. Ashpitel has also expressed his willingness to undertake the proposed duty, and he might be deputed under the terms of Article 104 of the Civil Service Regulations if, on inquiry, he still adheres to the intention expressed before leaving India.

Transferred to the Marine Department.
