Para. 5. There remains for consideration Colonel Macdonald Smith's letter, dated the 5th November 1891, No. 418, wherein he solicits orders as to the use to which the buildings of the abandoned Calicut District Jail are to be put. As stated above, the Government is not in favour of the transfer of criminal lepers to Calicut, and the Inspector-General mentions two alternative courses, namely, to use the district jail buildings as an asylum for criminal lunatics or to locate the subsidiary jail therein. The Inspector-General of Jails will now be requested to furnish the further report upon the former subject which was called for in G.O., dated 6th November 1891, No. 2286, Judicial, paragraph 14, and the Surgeon-General will at the same time be asked to favour Government with his views upon the subject of transferring criminal lunatics to Calicut. The proposal to locate the subsidiary jail in the old district jail commends itself to Government. It is observed that Mr. Cardew, in paragraph 72 of his report of the 20th May last, spoke of the present subsidiary jail as being miserably placed, and its transfer to the district jail may be carried out provided the District Magistrate signifies his approval of the change. The abandonment of the district jail at Calicut will at the same time be brought to the notice of all heads of departments, in view to their applying to Government should they desire to occupy the buildings.
