READ—the following paper:—

From H. W. FOSTER, Esq., Registrar of the High Court of Judicature, Appellate Side, Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Madras, 17th September 1891, No. 2296.

I am directed to forward the accompanying plans and estimate, amounting to Rs. 7,600, for constructing three additional buildings for the District Court-house at Tinnevelly.

2. The reasons for requiring the additions are shown in the letters of the District Judge, dated 21st ultimo and 5th instant, Nos. 509 and 555, respectively, copies of which are enclosed.

3. The work appears to the High Court to be necessary, and I am to request therefore that His Excellency the Governor in Council may be pleased to sanction the plans and to make the required allotment of funds.

Approved and transferred to the Public Works Department.

OCTOBER.

District Court-house at Kokarakulam

Estimate of Rs. 7,600 for constructing three additional buildings for the —, sanctioned, and funds appropriated from the Provincial reserve.

No. 509.

Tinnevelly District Court.
21st August 1891.

From

W. F. Grahame Esquire,
District Judge,
Tinnevelly.

To

H. W. Foster Esquire,
Registrar of the High Court
of Judicature, Appellate Side, Madras.

Sir,

I have the honor to submit herewith for the sanction of Government an Estimate for Rs. 7,600 prepared by the Executive Engineer of the Tinnevelly Division for constructing three additional buildings for the District Court-house (1) a shed for witnesses, (2) a building for securing moveable property including animals brought in under attachment, and (3) an extension to the present record room.

2. There is at present no accommodation in this Court for witnesses in Civil and Sessions cases attending this and the Sub Court close by, and the witnesses have no shelter except trees in all weathers, hot and rainy. Sometimes as many as 240 witnesses including including omen and women of all classes of society attend the Sessions Court not to speak of their children and others who accompany them. The witnesses often take shelter in the Court verandah causing noise and interruption to the Court and office work.

3. The moveables brought under attachment in civil suits in the three Courts (District Judge's, Sub-Judge's and District Munsif's), as well as articles sent up by Magistrates in connection with Sessions cases are at present kept in one of the rooms of the office which can ill be spared and which is quite insufficient. Heavy or large articles such as carts, timber &c. have to be left in the open ground in front of the Court-house and there is further no place whatever for penning at night attached sheep and cattle.

4. The record room is badly wanting in accommodation almost the whole space being taken up by the record on racks. Stationery articles also are stored in it. The little space which is left is occupied by the Record-keeper and his assistants, and very great inconvenience is felt in laying out for examination the fresh records which are received month by month from the lower Courts, as also when old records have to be sorted for destruction.

5. The inconvenience in all these three matters was so great and further accommodation seemed so absolutely necessary that the Executive Engineer has prepared the Estimate and plans in consultation with me and I request that the High Court will be pleased to recommend Government to sanction the work.

I have &c.

To

H. W. Foster Esquire,
Registrar of the High Court
of Judicature, Appellate Side
Madras.

Sir,

With reference to the Proceedings of the High Court dated the 28th August ultimo, No. 2132, enquiring whether adequate shelter and accommodation for witnesses attending this and the Sub Courts cannot be obtained within a reasonable distance from the Court-house, &c., I have the honor to state that except the verandah of the Court the witnesses have no other shelter than trees.

The Court-house is situated on the eastern bank of the Tambraparni midway between the two towns of

Tinnevelly

Tinnevelly and Palamcottah which are five miles apart from each other. The Court-house is near the village of Kokerakulam which has no accommodation for the witnesses, and even if there were, since the village is at some distance from the Court-house, it would cause great delay if parties should take shelter in the village and have to be called thence when their cases should be called up.

When this and the Subordinate Courts are closed for the day in the evening the people generally go to Tinnevelly or Palamcottah for the night. The only other accommodation is the Railway Choultry or rest house which is more than half a mile away on the other side of the river. There is another choultry on the road to Palamcottah about three-fourths mile from the Court-house into which only high caste caste people are allowed to enter.

Under these circumstances it appears to me that a shed for shelter in the vicinity of the Court-house is also absolutely necessary unless it be held that parties and witnesses are not entitled to shelter from the weather.

I have &c.

Technical Note.

Constructing additional buildings to the District Court at Kothandaramam. Tanjore Dist. Amount of Estimate Rs 7600

The estimate was prepared in consultation with the District Judge and it provides for the following additional accommodation.

1. Constructing a shed for witnesses
2. — do — for movable property
3. Enlargement of the record room.

The necessity for the additional accommodation is stated in the report accompanying the estimate.

The sites for the proposed buildings have been selected in consultation with the District Judge and it is proposed to keep the floor of these buildings one foot above H. F. L. of of 1877 in the Dambrapani river which runs close to the proposed site.

The buildings are the cutcherry, Watta brick in chunam, plastered both internal and external. Roofing to the estimate of record were terraced on teakwood joists & those of the Witness and Peons Posts tiled with flat and pan tiles on palmyrah rafters complete. The floors of all rooms are to be of cement except the cutcherry which will be of Granite 6" thick.

The scantlings of wood timbers, whose teak is provided, are as each estimate provides for palmyrah couples.

The rate for roofing with flat and pan tiles including palmyrah rafters &c. is Rs. 22 per Sqr. against Rs. 20 provided in the Schedule of rates, if the schedule rate is allowed the saving will be Rs. 100.

The plinth area covered by the buildings and the superficial cost per foot is as
