Copy Report by the Consulting Engineer dated 14th December 1891.

I suppose that what is wanted is what is known as "Priestman's Grab" Dredger, a crane with a peculiar Bucket at the bottom. But we ought to be left in no doubt in the matter. The estimate is sufficient.

Copy Report by the Consulting Engineer dated 17th December 1891.

In continuation of my memo. of 14th instant, I think we must obtain replies from India to the several questions given below, before we can proceed to order the dredger.

- 1st Who is the maker of the B size dredger referred to in the indent?
- 2nd Of what nature is the foundation on which the machine will rest, masonry, truck or barge?
- 3rd If this foundation is a moving one, what headway is available measuring from the base of the machine?
- 4th Is the jib to be constructed so that it can be raised or lowered, or can it be fixed? The latter plan is considered preferable when it can be used.
- 5th Is the boiler to be separate from or attached to the machine?
- 6th Is the boiler to be constructed to burn wood or coal?
- 7th Of what nature is the material for which the ordinary bucket is required?

As the indent is marked "Urgent" it would be well to obtain a reply from India by wire, the authorities being requested to quote the number given against each question.

It is requested that in any further communication on this subject the under-mentioned letter and number may be quoted, and the reply addressed to—
