No. 40

From

Henry Swin, Esq., C.I.C.,

Consulting Architect

to the Government of Madras,

To

The Chief Engineer

Public Works Department

Sir,

6. Enclosures.

In returning the papers received with your Memo: N^o 6176 dated the 6th February 1892, I have the honor to state that I deprecate the idea of building Latrines adjoining the Nalkils Chambers, as I understand such to be the request in paragraph 2 of the letter from the Secretary to the Nalkils Association to the Chief Secretary to Government, where Latrines are required for each floor, and my reasons for so doing, are as follows;—

(a) The Latrines, if constructed contiguous to the Chambers would, I consider, prove to be a nuisance, as the smell arising therefrom would be wafted into the Chambers.

(b) The cost of construction would be great, as they would have to be built to harmonize with the main building and the same floor levels maintained, and will consequently enhance the rent to be paid by Sakils, considerably.

I would suggest that additional Latrines for the sole use of Sakils be constructed on the strip of ground between the clerks Latrines and stalls for detained cattle, (as shown in the general site plan marked A and in detail on plan marked B.) They will be built in 3 compartments, with 4 seats in each.

Stable Accommodation. As there is no room available on the esplanade especially for buildings of this description, I would suggest that additional carriage sheds and horse stalls be erected within the existing stable yard (as shown in red on plan C.) 28 extra stalls and 30 places for carriages can thus be constructed, which may be utilized by Sakils &c.

2 The doors between rooms referred to in the concluding portion of the letter from the Sakils Association, can be fixed, as required.

3 The approximate cost of additions will be as follows:

Latrines as shown in red on plan B Rs 718
Additional stalls & carriage sheds as shown in red on plan C 8244
Providing doors between Sakils Chambers 1975 in all 3 floors.

Total Rs 10937

I have already reported in my letter N^o 3839 dated 19th March 1891, printed with L.O. N^o 16196 dated 15th June 1891, that the rent for Sakils chambers will amount to Rs 14. 6. 8., by the addition of the Latrines and doors this will be increased to about 16 Rs per chamber. In addition to which the rent for a place to keep one carriage will be about Rs 1 and Rs 1 per horse stall.

14 2/2

4 The Sakils do not refer to tiffin rooms. If such are required they can be built over the central portion of the chambers as shown on plan marked D. As the style of the building would have to be adopted the cost would be great amounting to nearly Rs 15000. If these are required the upper part of the 4 angle Towers of the Sakils chambers might be converted into Latrines but a separate staircase would have to be added for the sweepers. These are not likely to be required and I think that Latrines within a building used for business purposes are opposed to the usual customs of Natives who always have have their latrines outside and detached.

I have the honor to be

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MADRAS GOVERNMENT.

Read the following papers:-

From the Secretary to Madras High Court Vakils Association dated 15th January 1892
Proceedings of the Public Works Department dated 9th April 1892 N^o 1194 re forwarding reports from the Consulting Architect regarding additional accommodation applied for by the Vakils of the High Court

Order 29th April 1892 N^o 824

The Government concurs with the Consulting Architect that the additional latrines for the use of Vakils should be detached from the main building and his proposals on this subject are approved. The latrines can be made with doors to lock and keys can be provided for Vakils renting chambers.

2. Additional stabling should be provided in the manner suggested by the Consulting Architect but the Government considers that it will be enough for the present at all events, if additional accommodation for

for about 15 horses and 15 carriages is provided.

3. The communications between the front and back of the Chambers referred to in the last part of the letter from the Secretary to the Madras High Court Vakils Association should be constructed.

4. The Government considers it unnecessary to provide luncheon-rooms.

5. The plans will be returned to the Public Works Department which will take steps to give effect to these orders.
