SIR,

With reference to Mr Undersecretary Butler's endorsement dr. No. 535 dated the 21st March 1892 on a reference made by the Public Works Department regarding the house rent allowance paid to Sub Inspectors of the City Police force, I have the honor to report that by Government Order dated 2nd November 1888 No. 2266 Judicial, the allowance was raised from Rs 7 to Rs 12 per mensem; and under Government Order dated 23rd September 1890 dr. No. 1563 Judicial, the designation of "Serjeants" was changed into "Sub-Inspectors". It appears to me that the Government of India letter dated 15th June 1891 dr. No. 201 B, Public Works Department, recorded in Government Order dated 30th June 1891 No. 1764 W, was merely intended to record existing facts, and was issued in ignorance of the change recently introduced by the Madras Government, and I would suggest that the Government of India should be moved to amend it. It was not communicated to me, and Sub Inspectors have continued to draw Rs 12 a month as house rent.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

From Colonel T. WELDON, C.I.E., Commissioner of Police, Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government (through the Accountant-General), dated Madras, 29th July 1890, No. 76.

I have the honor to solicit the indulgence of Government for the following proposals for completion of the scheme for a re-organization of the City Police.

2. I regret being obliged again to trouble Government notwithstanding its liberality in dealing with former proposals of this nature, but our work is getting ahead of us and requires for its efficient performance and for the effective supervision of executive duties higher qualifications—both educational and intellectual—than can be expected from the present class of men employed as Divisional Inspectors. I am constantly being asked by heads of departments to undertake difficult and delicate inquiries affecting the interests of Government which are beyond my power to comply with unless more pressing work connected with ordinary crime and criminals be neglected. The duty of holding inquests has also proved more troublesome than was expected. The ordinary Inspector has not sufficient weight even if he had the necessary ability. In the Courts we are at special disadvantage, as there is not for the Magistrates' Courts any Public Prosecutor, and Vakils, Attornies and Pleaders abound, and, as a rule, appear for the defence in every case of any importance prosecuted by the Crown. The Divisional Inspector, even if he were competent, is debarred, as the investigating officer, from conducting a prosecution, and frequently objection is taken to his interfering in any way, although he may see that the Court is being misled as to facts. In the control of the police themselves the Inspector is not sufficiently independent to be always unbiassed. All matters of even petty detail have still to be arranged by reference to my office or to the Deputy Commissioner. I desire, therefore, to relieve our principal Inspectors of the routine of petty executive work and place them in supervising charge, each of two divisions forming a district, and, as our divisions are very large, these districts will be extensive.

3. These District Inspectors would hold inquests when necessary; conduct prosecutions in the Magistrates' Courts in important or difficult cases in which the Crown Prosecutor or Government Solicitor may not appear; attend to the maintenance of discipline and make periodical inspections of departmental buildings, records, arms and accoutrements; see to the practical instruction of men recently drafted to their divisions; make the necessary arrangements to keep order on the occasion of public assemblies in their district, or, in cases of anticipated danger at any time, communicating, when necessary for this purpose, with other District Inspectors or the Superintendent at head-quarters; they must be able to give or immediately obtain information on any matter of public interest in their district, and make themselves well acquainted with the character, conduct and qualifications of all their subordinates, especially of the Sub-Inspectors and petty officers.

4. The City is divided into eight divisions, exclusive of the A or Head-quarters division in charge of the Superintendent, which furnishes police for Head-quarter office, Stores, Reserve, Courts, Hackney Carriage and Intelligence Branch with Criminal Statistics and Registration of Known Depredators, Government House and all the guards for public buildings and treasury. Also the enlistment, equipment, primary instruction of all recruits, and mounted police, appertain to the Head-quarters division.

5. Each division is sub-divided into three sections, and each section comprises three beats.

6. I propose to make two of the present territorial divisions a district under a 1st-class Inspector as District Inspector, each division remaining, as now, under a lower class Inspector.

7. The distribution of supervision and responsibility will be as follows :—

—	The City.	Four Districts.	Eight Divisions.	Twenty-four Sub-Divisions or Sections.	Seventy-two Beats.
Chief Responsible Officer.	The Commissioner.	District Inspector.	Inspector.	Sergeant or Sub-Inspector.	Head Constable.

8. The following statement shows the different portions of the City comprised in the several Districts, Divisions and Sub-Divisions :—

District.	Division.	Sub-division.
No. I	H	I.—Washermanpett. II.—Ráyapuram. III.—Tondiarpett.
	M	Harbour, Port and Beach.
„ II	B	I.—1st and 2nd Line Beach; Tumboo Chetty street, &c. II.—Popham's Broadway; China Bazaar; Fort. III.—North Black Town.
	C	I.—South Black Town. II.—Peddunaikpett; John Pereir's. III.—Big Parcherry.
„ III	D	I.—Triplicane; Chepauk. II.—Mount Road, South; Thousand Lights, &c. III.—Ice House Road; Beach, South.
	E	I.—Mylapore; St. Thomé; Adyar. II.—Royapettah. III.—Teynampett.
„ IV	F	I.—Chintadripett; Mount Road, North. II.—Egmore; Chetput. III.—Nungumbaukum.
	G	I—Vepery. II.—Kilpauk. III.—Perambúr.

9. The present number and classification of Inspectors is as follows :—

2	First-class Inspectors.
3	Second-class do.
5	Third-class do.
3	Fourth-class do.
Total .. 13

employed thus :—

For divisions	8
Courts	2
Reserve and Intelligence branch	3
Total ..	13

10. To carry out my proposal 16 Inspectors would be required, distributed thus :—

District Inspectors (1st-class)	4
Divisional Inspectors (2nd-class 2 and 3rd-class 6)	8
Courts' Inspectors (4th-class)	2
Reserve and Intelligence branch—one 3rd-class, one 4th-class	2
Total ..	16

11. To provide for this requirement I propose :—

(a) to increase the number of 1st-class Inspectors from two to four—one for each district, reducing the number of 2nd-class Inspectors from three to two;

(b) increase the number of 3rd-class Inspectors from five to seven—one for each division not held by a 2nd-class Inspector, and one for the Intelligence branch, and reduce the number of 2nd-grade Sergeants from fifteen to twelve, that is, three Sergeants will be placed in charge of divisions as Inspectors, their places as Sergeants not being filled. Thus, there will be no increase of the number of superior officers, but, with better pay and more effective distribution of responsibility, a better class of men may be hoped for. The two 2nd-class Divisional Inspectorships will be useful as stepping-stones to the district charges and provide suitable officers to take the place at any time of a District Inspector who may be absent on leave or on special duty.

12. As every Sergeant is now required to take charge of a section, the designation of these officers may, I think, be more properly Sub-Inspectors, but no change, beyond that of name, is necessary. They will continue to draw the same pay and allowances as at present, and may be divided into four classes. The 3rd-class will be the present probationary class for European Sergeants. The 4th-class, the present Native Sub-Inspectors. These (Native) Sub-Inspectors now draw Rs. 40 as pay and Rs. 6 as horse allowance, total Rs. 46. Six rupees is not sufficient to keep any animal, and is, in fact, treated as substantive pay. It will be better to recognize this and fix the pay of the 4th-class Sub-Inspectors at Rs. 45.

13. Reference to the territorial divisions specified in paragraph 8 will show that the district charges are very extensive and important. It would be hard to expect an Inspector to do double the work and accept such additional responsibility on the same allowances as he would draw if in charge of only a single division. I therefore propose that a small charge allowance of Rs. 15 per mensem be allowed to each District Inspector. This, like the station charge allowance, would only be drawn by the officer actually doing the duties of the District Inspector, would not be claimable during absence on leave and must be considered as covering all additional expenses to which the officer may be put owing to his extended range.

14. By G.O., dated 9th July 1890, No. 494 (Public), Government was pleased to direct that I should submit a proposition statement effecting such further reduction in the establishment of the Government Workhouse as might be compatible with efficiency of administration. If Government approve the appointment of District Police Inspectors, the District Inspector of the First or Ráyapuram district might also be appointed ex-officio Governor of the Workhouse, which is situated in his district, and a proposal to this effect will be submitted * with the proposition statement ordered in the above-quoted proceedings of Government in the Public Department.

* Vide this office letter, No. 75, dated 29th July 1890.

15. The changes for which sanction is now asked are—

(1) Appointment of four District Inspectors, involving the promotion of two Inspectors from the 2nd to the 1st class. Additional cost Rupees (difference in pay 100 + allowance 60) = 160.

(2) Promotion of one 3rd-class Inspector to 2nd-class to complete the establishment to proposed number of that class, viz., two; additional cost Rs. 50.

(3) Promotion of three Sergeants to 3rd-class Divisional Inspector in li
Inspectors to be appointed District Inspectors; additional cost Rs. 1
(4) Change of designation of "Sergeants" to "Sub-Inspectors," 1st, 2 3rd class.
(5) Consolidating pay and allowances of present Native Sub-Inspectors (f 4th-class Sub-Inspectors).

16. The general financial effect of these proposals as regards the Police De ment is shown in the appended proposition statement marked (B). From this it be seen that, while there is no increase in numerical strength, the net increased c only Rs. 384. Against this must be set a saving of Rs. 80 by the transfer of Government Workhouse to the Commissioner of Police and the appointment of District Inspector of the First or Rayapuram district to the Governor of that ins tion, substituting a Sergeant (or Sub-Inspector) on Rs 60 as the Warder in imme charge of the vagrants. Also a saving of Rs. 9 by consolidating the pay of Native Inspectors (4th-class). Total saving 89 rupees per mensem, which, deducted from total increase above noted, gives Rs. 384 — 89 = Rs. 295 per mensem or Rs. 3 per annum.

17. If Government be pleased to sanction this, I think we will then attain ne all the benefits which might be expected had we been in a position to carry
Mr. Giles' recommendation to appoint three more highly-salaried Superintendents, desirability of which Government admitted, but which it regretted (G.O., dated September 1888, No. 1979, paragraph 4) could not at the time be afforded.

ORDER—dated 23rd September 1890, No. 1563, Judicial.

The proposals of the Commissioner of Police are approved.

2. The Government of India will be requested to sanction the proposal to the pay of the Sub-Inspectors (4th-class) from Rs. 40 to 45 and to discontinue conveyance allowance of Rs. 6 per mensem hitherto drawn by them under e
No. 70, Appendix 26 of the Civil Service Regulations.

From the Commissioner of Police, Madras, dy 13th October 1888, No. 68.

As directed by Order of Government dated 27th September 1888 No: 2058-2069, I have the honor to submit a formal proposition statement of the future establishment of the Madras City Police.

2. In para 10 of the above order Government decide that a police guard is to be continued at the Medical Stores and at the Government Telegraph stores, but adopt the suggestion of the Superintendent of Telegraphs that the number of Constables be reduced to three. I venture to suggest that Government overlook the principle on which isolated police posts are furnished to other Departments. (vide para 13. page 12 remarks on Mr Giles' report). Both the Medical and Telegraph Stores are situated far from Head Quarters and at a considerable distance from any Police Station. To provide for continuous duty, day and night, four men are necessary, and I should not like to undertake the responsibility with less. This allows each of the party only one day off duty in four, if none of the others be absent, (Sick or on leave) which will of course sometimes
