shows that it was a local ruling -

The Code of 1879
was drawn up by a Code Committee, whose President was the Hon. Member in charge of the P.W.D. Many local rulings were introduced into it by the Council, without any formal G.O. on each point.

The G.O. on this subject of the app. of sub.
ordinates can be found in the portions of the Code in ordinary type and verbatim extracts from the Indian Code. It also shows
interpolation or modifications made by the local Committee.

Please see also
letter to India No 31746 of 26.11.91. Printed into Proc. No 6 W 14.12.92 - which shows the terms on which the Indian Code was accepted by this Govt. It is pointed out that there may be orders from

it may be desirable to maintain in force for a greater or less period, & this was requested to allow the Govt. a considerable amount of latitude in the matter of alteration of forms & procedure. These terms were accepted by the G. P. S. In the course of this latitude, however, with respect to many matters has continued -

Of the terms
the India Code were strictly enforced. The local Govt. itself were not empowered to offer upper subordinates, or under para 43, except I, such appts. not
with the G. P. S.

Under local Govt.
Cadets, the Chief Clerk
arrange the transfer of upper subordinates
from Circle to Circle and under the India Code, we have no power

4. It seems to me that the sub-ordinate is not authorized to rule in favor of the practice without obtaining in this Presidency of contracting appointments of the Chief Engineer to the Chief Engineer. It is continued as a matter of course under the provision of the Foot note referred to in para 3 of this Note.
