Your office note No. 557 C. dated 3rd.
February 1892.

This office cannot tell whether there is reason to anticipate any diminution in the revenue on the corresponding period in past years, but judging from the actual revenue realized during the last months of the three preceding years, there is no reason to assume that the full sum of Rs. 1,18,000 will not be realized during the year 1891-92.
