READ—the following paper:—

From J. C. LARMINIE, Esq., Superintending Engineer, V Circle, to the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, dated Chepāk, 31st May 1893, No. 194 W.

With reference to para. 3 of G.O., No. 897 W., dated 6th April 1893, I have the honour to state that a new office and quarters for the Sub-divisional officer at Mannārgudi having been provided, it was proposed to convert the old sub-divisional office in which the overseer now holds his office into an inspection bungalow.

2. The overseer was holding his office in a thatched shed built on private land which must be vacated at any time the owner required it. It was intended that when the new sub-divisional office was built, the overseer should have his office in it. This building, however, which contains two small main rooms and a narrow room at rear, was found hardly sufficient for the sub-divisional office and stores. The proposal to convert the old building into an inspection bungalow was thereupon set aside, and the overseer was allowed to have his office in it. There is a good garden attached to this building, and a watchman has therefore been, and is still required to be, employed to look after the garden, as also the building. The overseer has only one lascar and he goes out with the overseer on circuit, and there is then no one to look after the garden and the building. The new sub-divisional office is about a mile distant from this building, and hence it could not be placed under the Sub-divisional officer's immediate charge. I request therefore that a watchman on Rs. 4, as already applied for, may be sanctioned for this building.

ORDER—dated 12th June 1893, No. 1565 W., Public Works.

Separate office accommodation cannot be allowed to the overseer. He may, if necessary, hold his office in the new sub-divisional office, the old building and the garden attached to it being sold under arrangements to be made by the Collector if not required for any public purpose. An inspection bungalow is not necessary at the sub-divisional head-quarters and no watchman will be required.
