Note by the Government Agent,
Godavari of 29th January 1893.

Dispensary building and kitchen in good order. The Medicines &c. are sufficient for present requirements, but this is only by the help of an extra indent. I think that the Hospital should be made 2nd class. The in-patient arrangements are not satisfactory. The wards are more draughty than an ordinary house and there are only two pots. The number of patients, including the Police is sufficient to show that really good accommodation is required. There were 97 inpatients about half of whom were Police men treated in 1892. The Superintendent of Police, who is here, has raised the question as to whether the 6 bed ward does not belong to the Police exclusively; and the District Surgeon has just ruled that it does belong to that Department. If so only the 4 bed ward is left for the public which is insufficient. This matter wants clearing up. In any case the walls of the wards must be improved and the ventilation reduced and the roofs re-thatched without delay. If it should turn out that the 6 bed ward belongs to the Police it will be advisable to build a new 6 bed ward for males, leaving the 4 bed ward for women and children.

The

See now Police in patients treated in 1892 were males 20, women 15 and children 10.
The most economical plan would however be for the police to take the 4 bed ward and for the 6 bed ward to be divided by a tatty partition into a 4 bed ward for males and a 2 bed ward for women and children.
The compound ought to be kept cleaner. It had evidently been cleaned up recently, but filth and ashes were not removed by the village sweepers, but were thrown into the next compound. I found fresh human ordure just behind the 4 bed ward so that evidently the latrine is not regularly used by all patients.
The number of outpatients has improved of late which is satisfactory.
