GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Pay and Allowances—Regulations.

Read the following:—

No. Extract of a letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Adjutant-General in India; dated Simla, 1st July 1893, No. 2178-F.

Paras. 1 and 2. I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, with enclosures, No. 3828-D (Discipline, Officers—Soldiers), dated 6th October 1892, suggesting an amendment of the rule contained in article 1015, Army Regulations, India, Volume I., Part I., relative to a soldier's deferred pay being liable for all fines, stoppages, and public and regimental debts, on the ground that it does not accord with the provisions of article 722 of the Royal Warrant, 1892.

2. In reply I am to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, a copy of the correspondence marginally noted, and to say that, under the circumstances represented therein, the Government of India are of opinion that the rule in article 1015 need not be disturbed, as it may become operative under certain conditions.

Para. 13 of Despatch from Government of India, to Secretary of State, No. 36, dated 8th March 1893 (covering letter No. 3828-D, quoted above, from Adjutant-General in India).

Para. 15 of Despatch from Secretary of State, No. 51 of 27th April 1893, and enclosure.

Extract of a Military letter to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India; dated 8th March 1893, No. 36.

Para. 13. We forward the correspondence detailed in the annexed list, on the subject of the want of accord between the ruling in article 1015, Army Regulations, India, Volume I., Part I., and article 722 of the Royal Warrant of 1891. Under para. 562 of the War Office "Financial Instructions in relation to army accounts, 1892," deferred pay is liable to deduction on account of any fines and stoppages, or public or regimental debts.

Before, therefore, taking any action to alter article 1015, Army Regulations, India, Volume I., Part I., we would wish to be informed whether the rule in the War Office Instructions quoted is correctly framed with reference to the Royal Warrants of 1891 and 1892.

Extract of a Military letter from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India; dated the 27th April 1893, No. 51.

Para. 15. Herewith is forwarded a copy of a letter from the War Office, dated 11th April 1893, regarding the conditions under which the deferred pay of the soldier may be appropriated to make good any public claim against him.

[In reply to para. 13 of your Military Despatch No. 36, dated 8th March 1893.]

From H. T. DE LA BERE, Esq., Deputy Accountant-General, War Office, to the Under-Secretary of State for India; dated London, the 11th April 1893, No. 18-Gen./No. 1333.

I am directed by the Secretary of State for War to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 4th instant, No. M-3239, and to acquaint you that, under article 844 of the Pay Warrant of 1892, "the pay and all other emoluments issued under this Our Warrant, &c., shall be held liable to be stopped," &c., and this obviously includes deferred pay.

It should, however, be remembered that such deferred pay cannot be appropriated until it is actually issuable to the soldier concerned, and further that, in the event of a soldier forfeiting his claim to deferred pay for any of the reasons set forth in article 722 of the Warrant, the deferred pay so forfeited could not be drawn in aid of such soldier's public liabilities.

The case of Tomsett, referred to in the correspondence accompanying your letter, may be taken by way of illustration of the above points.

If Tomsett is eventually discharged for some reason other than those specified in article 722 of the Warrant, the whole or any portion of the deferred pay accruing to him might, if necessary, when he is so discharged, be appropriated to make good any public claim against him.

If, however, he was discharged for one of the reasons set forth in that article, no sum whatever would be due on account of deferred pay.
