Read—the following paper :—

From the Director of Public Instruction, Madras, dated 3rd December 1892,
No. 15938.

With reference to G.Os., No. 3060 W. and R. No. 166, Educational, dated 16th and 24th November 1891, respectively, I have the honour to state that the cost of providing verandahs on all sides of this office was estimated at about Rs. 30,000 ; but, in view of the heavy outlay on public works and of a provision of Rs. 10,000 only on this account in the Provincial Civil works budget for 1891-92 and 1892-93 under class A and class B works, respectively, the Consulting Architect was requested to prepare an estimate on an economical scale for constructing a verandah along the southern side of the building only, this being the side in which my room is situated. The room is exposed to the full force of the sun during the whole day, and the want of a verandah causes it to become excessively hot and oppressive. The room is rendered all the more trying in the hot weather on account of the roof not being terraced, but being of the Bengal pattern. The venetian windows must be kept shut to keep out the sun, whereas, if a verandah were built, they could be left open and thus allow a free current of air to pass through the room. I beg, therefore, to submit, for favour of early approval and sanction, the enclosed plan and estimate. The Consulting Architect reports that Rs. 3,000 can be spent on the work during the current official year if the estimate is approved and sanctioned in time. Probably he has savings under other heads to expend the above amount on this work.

Order—dated 17th December 1892, No. 876, Educational.

The plan and estimate are approved and will be transferred to the Public Works Department.
