Read the following:—

From the General
Suptd. P. W. Stores No. 1225 of 24 July 1893.

FOR ORDERS.

The General Superintendent, P. W. Stores submits a special indent for Copper sheeting required for lock gates on the Buckingham Canal. If the sheets are to be used up as soon as they are received, their cost will be finally charged to the proper head of account, but as they are not to be so used but kept in stock, their cost will have to be charged in the first instance to the grant under '45 Provincial Civil Works. When they are utilised for the lock gates, their value, &c.

be debited to an estimate for the gates, which will be sanctioned under 43 Provincial Minor Works and Navigation, and the debit to 45 Provincial Civil Works will then be relieved.

2. As the object of keeping these Copper Sheets in stock is to obviate the delay in obtaining them from England whenever necessary and as the General Superintendent reports that they are not likely to become surplus, it is suggested that an allotment be made late in the year as soon as funds become available under 45 Provincial Civil Works and that the same be authorised to grant the requisite certificate in anticipation of allotment of funds. The indent will be reduced by one half. It will be sufficient for the present to get shipping for four Locks.

FOR ORDERS.

Indent for Copper Sheets for Lock gate Buckingham Canal

I don't know when 10 locks are for from 1860. One is built, I think, & I have only heard of two more. I don't think 10 or even 500 should be given without more information.
